Woman Killed In Fayette Car Crash

Terry Lynn Coy, 20, Route 1, Mt. Sterling, died early Thursday of massive head injuries suffered in a single car crash at the intersection of Whiteoak Road and Jones Road near Bloomingburg in Fayette County.

Fayette County Sheriff Don Thompson said the accident occurred sometime after 1 a.m. Thursday, but was not discovered until 6:13 a.m.

She was apparently returning home from her waitress job in Washington C. H. when the accident occurred.

Deputy Sheriff Charles Wise, first to arrive on the scene, said the girl was pinned in the mangled wreckage of her car about two miles from her home.

THE car was apparently traveling north when it ran off the left side of the paved surface into a ditch.

The car rammed a concrete culvert and drain pipe in the ditch, flipped to the right side as it skidded across the pavement and crashed into an endpost on the right side.

Mrs. Coy is survived by a son, Kevin Duane; grandmother Mrs. Elizabeth Butcher, with whom she made her home; step-parents, Warren and Delores Mills, Mt. Sterling; two brothers, Tracy and Warren Jr.; a sister, Vicki Jacobs, Mt. Sterling; father John Joseph, Washington C.H.

Services will be 2 p.m. Monday in Porter Funeral Home, Mt. Sterling, with the Rev. Robert McNeely officiating. Burial will be in Pleasant Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home beginning 7 p.m. Saturday.

Revenue-Sharing Bill Near Final Approval

2 Youths Face Charges In Costly Fairgrounds Fire

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two 17-year-old wards of the Ohio Youth Commission were scheduled to be charged here Friday with arson for allegedly starting the multi-million dollar fire that destroyed several acres of buildings at the Ohio State Fair Grounds on Tuesday.

Michael Wagner, 17, of Cleveland and James Hardy, 17, of Bethel, Clermont County, have had delinquency charges signed against them by an investigator of the state fire marshal's staff.

Investigators said the delinquency charges were filed after questioning of 40 youths at a detention camp located on the fairgrounds. Lie detector tests were also given to several of the youths.

Herbert Cummings, director of the Ohio Youth Commission, said that questioning of the youths at the camp began immediately after the fire and five of the juveniles were implicated. The two who are to be charged agreed to take lie detector tests.

Cummings said that most of the boys felt bad about the incident and about 20 of them helped to get the 1,700 cattle at the North American Dairy Show out of the fair grounds burning barns.

The two boys, according to Cummings, were sent to the camp on theft charges and neither has a record of arson.

Investigators believe the boys started the fire as a diversionary tactic so they could steal the personal belongings of the persons visiting the show.

The fire left nearly seven acres of debris and destroyed a cattle barn, cattle barn annex and a swine barn, which were all connected. Twelve persons were injured and four head of cattle were lost. There were about 1,700 cattle at the fairgrounds for the North American Dairy Show.

Gov. John Gilligan offered the full support of his office to help rebuild the destroyed area. He also commended exhibitors for helping remove the cattle from the burning buildings.

"With some 1,700 dairy cattle in the burning area, and with so few being lost in the fire, it is easy to see that many people worked hard and fast to save some of America's prized dairy animals," he said.

Victor Lucas, manager of the fairgrounds, estimates the damage at more than $4 million and a state architect said it is a minimum of $2 million.

Backers said the bill would extend protection to farmworkers in efforts to prevent exposure to risks from experimental tests involving pesticides. The legislation also would extend to pesticides sold within a state as well as those moving in interstate commerce.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Inching toward final adjournment, Congress planned to tackle several major bills today but it appeared likely two of them would delay the end of the session until early next week.

The legislators had intended to adjourn the 92nd session by Saturday.

But no settlement seemed probable before Monday or Tuesday on the Social Security welfare bill now in a House-Senate conference committee, and the $250-billion spending ceiling President Nixon had requested.

Both houses extended the Thursday sessions into the night in an effort to whittle down the last-minute crush.

The House passed the compromise $74.3-billion defense appropriations bill, one of the largest in history. The Senate planned to vote on it today and send it to the President.

The House cleared the compromise revenue-sharing bill and sent it to the Senate which plans to pass it on to Nixon this afternoon. The measure would distribute 330 billion in federal funds to the state and local governments over five years.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate tentatively scheduled a vote today that could send $2.65 billion—the first installment in a $30-billion revenue-sharing program—flowing to states, cities and other local governments.

If the Senate passes the bill, as is expected, President Nixon is certain to sign it.

The five-year revenue-sharing measure is a key element in his "new federalism" program.

The Treasury, without waiting for passage, has been working for weeks on preparations for mailing 39,000 checks, scheduled to go out before the Nov. 7 election.

The sum to be distributed immediately represents half the $5.3-billion allotment for 1972. The other half is expected to be paid in January.

By a 265-110 vote Thursday, the House passed the bill in its final form, a compromise between versions earlier approved by the two chambers.

Opponents, who contended the bill violates good government procedures and would swell the big federal deficits, pressed their unsuccessful fight to the end.

"Really, we ought to have our heads examined as we embark on this historical mistake," said Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Wis. Byrnes, the senior Republican member of the House Ways and Means Committee who is retiring from Congress this year, broke with the White House to fight revenue sharing.

One-third of each year's allocation, which would rise gradually to $6.4 billion in the fifth year, will go to states to spend as they please. Two-thirds will go to the subordinate governments, to be spent within broad guidelines embracing most governmental areas except education.

The distribution among the states, and within each state, would be governed by complex formulas based on population, tax effort and need as measured by per capita income.

The bill also contains a limitation that would hit some states which have made maximum use of a program for the government to match, three to one, expenditures for social services to the disadvantaged, especially welfare recipients.

There is now no limit on the amount of matching funds states may receive. The bill would set a $2.5-billion annual ceiling and apportion the money among the states by population. It also would tighten requirements that the funds be used primarily for welfare recipients.

'Oldies But Goodies' March For Rights

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The "Oldies But Goodies" are taking their cause to the street, marching in protest of what they call inadequate Social Security payments. Several hundred members of the organization marched on City Hall to protest inadequate Social Security payments Wednesday and later carried their rally to the auditorium of the Louisiana State University Medical Center.

Dr. Richard Wright, director of the research unit doing the study that runs through June 1974, said the first year will be largely devoted to locating shipwrecks. In its second year, the Bowling Green center will concentrate on getting details on the type of vessels that have gone down in the state's Great Lakes waters.

THE Michigan Natural Resources Department has raised the possibility of underwater parks by its decision to authorize a $10,000 survey on shipwrecks.

The DNR contracted for the survey with the Northwest Ohio-Great Lakes Research Center at Bowling Green State University in Ohio.

The survey is billed as the first one ever undertaken.

"We see this plan as a positive approach to protecting shipwrecks and other sunken artifacts of historic importance against treasure hunting, while opening up a whole new realm of recreation for skin divers and other Great Lakes users," said James A. Bryant, historic preservation specialist for the DNR.

NOT much time left to get the tuberculosis skin test for those who plan to work in a food service booth at Pumpkin Show next week.

Internal Disturbances Face Chilean Government

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — President Salvador Allende's troubles increased today with the announcement of an indefinite strike by small businesses, retail shops, the construction industry and private farmers.

They were called out in support of a nationwide trucking strike and to express their opposition to Allende's socialist program.

The Marxist president declared a state of emergency in Santiago and a large part of populous central Chile Thursday as a result of the trucking strike, now in its third day.

Gasoline rationing was ordered as some service stations went dry, and some bakeries ran out of flour.

Despite the state of emergency, Jorge Fontaine, president of the Confederation of Production and Commerce, said the sympathy strike would begin today.

The confederation's members are threatened by Allende's plans to convert Chile to socialism eventually.

Fontaine said in a broadcast they were striking because of "repeated attacks against freedom to work and freedom of expression and to express our solidarity with the national trucking movement."

The University Student Federation, led by Communist Alejandro Rojas, issued a call to impede "the new reactionary escalation aimed at defeating the government."

The Councils of Supplies and Prices, formed by the government in poor neighborhoods to report store owners charging more than official prices, called upon its members to take measures "to open the businesses that remain closed."

The truckers' strike began late Tuesday after the breakdown of talks between the government and the Confederation of Truck Owners, which is demanding higher cargo rates.

Some 300 truck drivers and owners, including confederation president Leon Vilarin, have been arrested and charged with breaking the internal security law.

Gen. Hector Bravo, chief of the emergency zone for Santiago province, banned all demonstrations as well as publication of news that the government considered "exaggerated, alarmist, tendentious or provocative."

Kissinger and Haig, upon arriving Thursday night from Paris, said nothing to newsmen. The two went directly to the White House for an initial report to Nixon.

A White House source said he knew of no immediate plans to disclose what has gone on in the negotiations. So far Nixon has said only that "the negotiations are at a sensitive stage."

Against this backdrop, Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott Thursday predicted that the United States' "warlike participation" in Vietnam will be over by Jan. 20.

The White House silence on the secret negotiation, matched by Hanoi's silence, has set off flurries of speculation that a peace deal is near at hand. But some rumors also portray the rival envoys as still far apart.

The announced circumstances suggest that the two sides have gone into each others' peace terms in considerable detail, perhaps refining differences in a way to allow leadership decisions on the next negotiating move.

If so, Nixon could be weighing options brought home by Kissinger. A decision on the timing and scope of the next U.S. move would be up to the President.

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Judge James Spencer has fined a 51-year-old man $25 for trespassing after the man said he was only "interested in the safety of the people."

Russell Adams was arrested after a security guard noticed him under a car parked at a auto dealership. Adams said he was tightening any loose screws he could find in trying to "prevent loss of lives of motorists."

Youth Bound To Grand Jury On Drug Rap

Michael Willoughby, 18, Circleville, was arrested by city police 10:20 p.m. Thursday on charges of possession of marijuana, second offense, and illegal possession of prescription drugs.

Sgt. Wes Barton, Larry Pontious and Ptl. Joe Stevenson obtained a search warrant and went to Willoughby's residence.

A search of the room turned up a leather shaving kit containing marijuana, an unknown powder substance and two clear capsules containing a brown substance.

Willoughby was taken to city jail on $2,000 bond and the confiscated substances were sent to the Ohio State Patrol Laboratory for analysis.

He appeared in Circleville Municipal Court this morning where he pled guilty and was bound over to the grand jury. He was previously convicted of a marijuana charge in municipal court July 22.

Willoughby is in Pickaway County jail on $1,500 bond.

Gilligan's Wine Arrives; Bet Won

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The wine has arrived.

Gov. John J. Gilligan planned a cork popping ceremony in his office today to commemorate winning his bet with Pennsylvania Gov. Milton Shapp over outcome of the National League baseball playoffs.

Gilligan bet Shapp a case of Ohio maple syrup against a case of Pennsylvania wine.

The Cincinnati Reds won the playoffs from the Pittsburgh Pirates on the 5th game Thursday.

4 Top Candidates Make Political Swings

In Atlanta, the President rode down Peachtree Street and received a shower of cheers and confetti. The White House said police estimated up to 700,000 turned out to greet Nixon.

Nixon later told 200 campaign officials and Republican party leaders at an invitation-only reception that it is now essential that "we find a way to make this nation one nation, that we find a way to work together ... That is why I am campaigning in all regions, among all races, among all religions, among all age groups," he said. "What I am trying to do is appeal to all. That is why we seek what I call a new American majority."

Southern Republicans predicted a Nixon sweep of the South but cautioned against overconfidence.

Meanwhile, McGovern hit the issue that launched his presidential campaign—the Vietnam war.

In Minneapolis, the Democratic nominee played a tape of a young man's account of the Vietnam War. The audience in the vast mall of the University of Minnesota was silent as the voice told of napalmed bodies, devastation from U.S. bombs, and his thoughts about rationalizing and then condoning the bombing.

McGovern said the voice on the tape was that of "a young GI back from Vietnam." He did not identify him or offer documentation of the tape.

The Democratic vice-presidential nominee, Sargent Shriver, told a beer-and-pretzels rally in Parma, Ohio, that Nixon has degraded politics, corrupted the government and failed to live up to the most important promise he made—to end the war.

Major Pesticide Reform Measure Sent To Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — With mixed feelings about an indemnity provision, Congress has sent President Nixon a bill calling for the first major pesticide-law reform in 25 years.

A Senate-passed compromise providing for new rules to govern chemical warfare against pests was approved 198 to 99 by the House Thursday night.

For the first time, pesticides would be subject to regulation through control of chemical use rather than merely the making and labeling of a product, said sponsors of the legislation, while ways to ban pesticides would be streamlined to head off widespread damage.

The legislation gives the Environmental Protection Agency power to register and regulate pesticides for general or restricted use. EPA could deny, suspend or cancel a registration. Existing law, passed in 1947, deals mainly with registration and labeling.

Opposition centered on the legislation's provision for indemnifying those who have pesticide registrations suspended or canceled in cases posing "an imminent hazard" to the public and who "owned any quantity of such pesticide."

Fair - market - value compensation could then be paid to those suffering losses. But no indemnity could go to those who were aware their pesticide would fail to meet the law's requirements.

Supporters of this provision said it was necessary in a spirit of fairness, but opponents said it would extend a precedent of payments to those who put a dangerous product on the market and were later forced to remove it.

The $1-billion-a-year pesticides business would come under new EPA controls through this legislation which was prompted by disputes involving the environmental impact of using pesticides in agricultural production.

Backers said the bill would extend protection to farmworkers in efforts to prevent exposure to risks from experimental tests involving pesticides. The legislation also would extend to pesticides sold within a state as well as those moving in interstate commerce.

Interest Rates Under Attack

Federal Officials Start Jawboning

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration is stepping up its vocal campaign against rising interest rates on short-term loans but giving no firm indication that it will use its power to control rates.

President Nixon's Committee on Interest and Dividends, headed by Federal Reserve Board Chairman Arthur F. Burns, added its voice to the campaign Thursday by issuing a statement saying it "views with concern" recent increases in the prime lending rate.

But the panel sought to reassure borrowers that long-term interest rates, including home mortgages, automobile loans and other consumer loans, would remain stable. It said it sees no reason to expect any rise in interest rates on these loans.

Only a day earlier, Dr. Herbert Stein, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, said the administration is unhappy about the continued rise in interest rates. But Stein said the administration is reluctant to use the controls that Congress authorized earlier this year.

The committee said it will begin to watch earnings of banks and other financial institutions because of the rise in interest rates. But the committee did not explain what it would do if it determined banks were making too much money.

The panel noted that the prime lending rate, the interest rate that commercial banks charge their biggest and best customers, has gone up to 5.75 per cent. This is still lower than the 6-per-cent prime rate in effect when Nixon imposed a wage-price freeze Aug. 15, 1971 the committee said.

Sources said the Cost of Living Council will begin to consider whether interest-rate controls should be imposed if the prime lending rate goes up to 6 per cent again. A spokesman for the committee, however, called this "pure speculation."

6 Are Arrested In Marshall U Disturbance

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — At least six persons were arrested by state and city police after about 10 persons, mostly youths, smashed several windows and scattered debris near the Mars hall University campus.

Officers laid down a screen of tear gas before moving onto the campus shortly after a riot situation was declared by state police at 10:30 p.m., EDT, Thursday night. There were no immediate reports of injuries.

Police Chief G. H. Kleinknecht said he assumed the disturbance was prompted by the arrests of about a dozen Marshall students in a drug sweep Wednesday.

A similar drug raid last April led to two nights of serious unrest on the Marshall campus when students massed to protest arrests made in college dormitories.

President Nixon has completed a confetti and cheer-filled political sortie into the South, while challenger George McGovern hammered away at the President's Vietnam-war policies and silenced a big university crowd in the process.

Nixon flew back to Washington Thursday night after his six-hour trip to Atlanta, his first public campaign appearance in two weeks.

In Atlanta, the President rode down Peachtree Street and received a shower of cheers and confetti. The White House said police estimated up to 700,000 turned out to greet Nixon.

Nixon later told 200 campaign officials and Republican party leaders at an invitation-only reception that it is now essential that "we find a way to make this nation one nation, that we find a way to work together ..."

"That is why I am campaigning in all regions, among all races, among all religions, among all age groups," he said. "What I am trying to do is appeal to all. That is why we seek what I call a new American majority."

Southern Republicans predicted a Nixon sweep of the South but cautioned against overconfidence.

Meanwhile, McGovern hit the issue that launched his presidential campaign—the Vietnam war.

In Minneapolis, the Democratic nominee played a tape of a young man's account of the Vietnam War. The Democratic vice-presidential nominee, Sargent Shriver, told a beer-and-pretzels rally in Parma, Ohio, that Nixon has degraded politics, corrupted the government and failed to live up to the most important promise he made—to end the war.

POW's Mother Speaks Here; Seeks End Of Vietnam War

By DAVE AMEY
Herald Staff Writer

Five years ago today, Oct. 13, 1967, a Marine radar intercept officer bailed out of his F-4 Phantom jet just north of the Demilitarized Zone in Vietnam's Quang Tri province.

A rescue helicopter team crossed the DMZ just in time to see 1st Lt. Jim Warner and the pilot of the plane being led away by four North Vietnamese regulars. Jim Warner has been a Prisoner of War ever since.

MRS. VIRGINIA WARNER

Virginia Warner, the now 32-year-old officer's mother, was in Circleville yesterday to speak out against the war that has held her son a prisoner for five years.

She flew to Columbus Airport ("I sit like this," she said with hands folded and clenched "because I am afraid to fly. But it does give me a chance to pray for Jim.") and was whisked to a Community United Methodist Church Circle meeting Thursday afternoon as the group's guest speaker.

SHE spoke again to the Junior Women's Club Thursday night.

Her addresses, "too many to count in the past five years," have not been vindictive or tragic. "Maybe in the initial years, but now now." All she wants is her son.

GRA-Y FLAG FOOTBALL TOURNAMENT

First game of the YMCA's new Gra-Y Flag Football Tournament will be played Saturday 9 a.m. at South Court School between Atwater and Mount Street Gra-Y Clubs. The second game scheduled for 10:30 a.m. will be between the Pickaway Township and South Court Street Gra-Y clubs. Games will be continued on Oct. 28, Nov. 4, Nov. 11 and Nov. 18. Printed game schedules and rules are available at the YMCA and Gra-Y Club meetings.

The new 4, 5 and 6th grade football program is another athletic activity for the eleven city and county Gra-Y Clubs. Directing the football tournament is James Griffith, YMCA Gra-Y Adviser, and assistants are Circleville Bible College students and members of the new YMCA Junior Leader's Club.

Gra-Y clubs have been organized this fall in five Circleville City Schools and Washington Township, Jackson, Monroe, Pickaway and Ashville. Clubs are being considered for Walnut and Saltcreek Schools.

Additional activities for Gra-Y members include a football game trip on Nov. 4 and a swim on Oct. 25.

$100 Damages

Awarded By Jury

Jurors brought a verdict Thursday in favor of Walter Rhodes, Route 2, and awarded damages of $100.

The action, charging deliberate defamation of Rhodes' character and reputation, was filed against Carl Hawks, W. Main St., and involved a controversy over ownership of three sets of television and radio repair instructions and alleged comments made by Hawks.

Members of the jury were: Frank R. Lands, Betty Waidelich, Dale M. Ankrom, Odille Irish, Paul D. Barnes, Marilyn Wheeler, Vera M. Leist and Ben Grace.

She lives in Ypsilanti, Mich. Her husband James works for a major automobile manufacturer and she is a medical secretary.

Besides her son, she has two daughters, both married, and five grandchildren.

A proud mother, she said, "Jim always liked to learn. He went to college at nearby Eastern Michigan University for five years.

"But he knew he was going to be drafted so he enlisted in Navy Flight training. When the class graduated, he was in the top ten per cent and went to the Marines."

"He volunteered," she said. "He felt it was his duty, that he owed it to us and his country. He felt he was defending us. And I was torn between right and wrong."

When Jim was 26 years old and in the service for three years, she received word of his capture from Marine officials.

"We were asked to remain silent about Jim's capture because it might bring reprisals to other POWs," she said.

"And we did for 2½ years until the National League of Families was started. We were delighted to be able to talk to other families of POWs. I became coordinator for Indiana and Michigan and worked hard for two years with the group."

"The Defense Department held briefings for families once a month. The first month they said plans to end the war were beginning. Cam Ranh Bay was being prepared as a repatriation center. The hope buoyed us."

Now the center is abandoned, left in a pile of rubble.

"I would like to everyone to consider how cruel this was to families of POWs. Then the officials started talking of inhumane treatment to our boys by the North Vietnamese and their was nothing we could do."

She received a letter from her son in March 1970 and has since received 22 letters. His name was on the first POW list released by North Vietnam in 1969.

The letters are 6 lines long and must follow a form about health and family. She can reply once a month with the same 6-line style.

The mail is delivered by the Committee for Liaison in California. Letters sent by regular post will not be delivered.

She can also send a package once a month, not to exceed 6½ pounds. This must go regular mail through Moscow. The limit is raised to 11 pounds at Christmas.

Some of the things Jim has asked for include pipe tobacco, vitamins and freeze-dried coffee. He has also asked for a pair of size 32 pants. He wore 34 pants before his capture.

BUT he has asked for no food. Meals consist mainly of pumpkin soup.

Since his capture, Jim has been promoted to Capt. His pay is deposited with the Marines and draws an interest of 10 per cent.

"All we really want is for him to walk off a plane a free man," Mrs. Warner says.

From Jim's letters and personal talks with freed POWs, Mrs. Warner can't understand vendetta-type campaigns against the Vietnamese. They apparently receive the same treatment as captured Viet Cong.

"Our government must not want them to return home. There would be no reason for us to stay in Vietnam if they did. We have been deceived into thinking the whole war is about prisoners, but the trouble is we're creating more every day we stay there."

"The only solution," Mrs. Warner said, "would be for us to leave Vietnam as rapidly and gracefully as possible. We have been there for 20 years and only a handful of prisoners have been released. How many Vietnamese prisoners have we released? It's time we listened to the North Vietnamese government, stop the bombing and pull out. Then maybe our boys would have a chance. We must stop, take account of ourselves, get out and say, 'Lord, forgive us.'"

MRS. Warner, a fundamentalist Baptist by faith, claims the war is wrong, morally. "No where in the Bible does it say that we will be blessed for the destruction of a country, its people and culture."

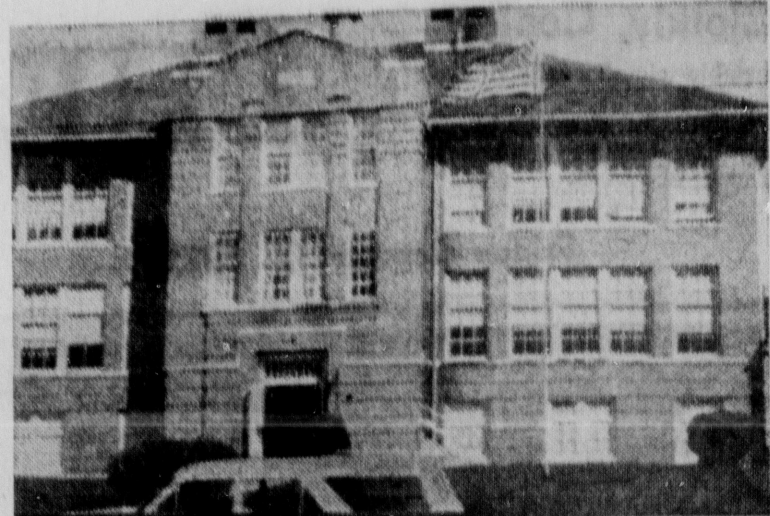

"None of our boys have died in vain. It was our responsibility to support the government of our country. But we have supported it for 20 years. We are morally wrong and the sooner we face up to it, the better we will be."

"I plan to keep speaking and praying for a total pullout, like I have been doing for the past five years. But I am gradually feeling hopeless."

"My husband is trying to make arrangements to send me to Paris next year to meet with the North Vietnam delegation at the peace talks."

"Maybe by talking with them I can arrange visitation privileges for families of prisoners by 1976."

"I have to trust them," she said of her son's captives. "And we have to give them a chance, because it's apparently the only real chance we have."

Hearing On Denver School Racial Mix Under Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has been told that Denver school officials intentionally promoted racial segregation by such "policy decisions" as the way they fixed attendance boundaries and built new schools.

Civil rights lawyer James M. Nabrit III appeared Thursday in the first school case from outside the South to be argued before the court since the 1954 ruling that racially separate schools are unconstitutional and must be desegregated.

The court took the Denver case under advisement for a decision later during its current term.

Nabrit, representing a group of black parents, said that even if the court does not find there is "illegal official action," there is enough evidence of inferior education in black and Hispanic schools to require systemwide desegregation.

William K. Ris, arguing in behalf of the school board, said Denver schools presented an educational problem "beyond the competence of the federal judiciary."

In a surprise development in the case, Justice Byron R. White—a Coloradoan—appeared in the court. He had disqualifed himself from the case until Thursday, presumably because of a connection to it by his former law firm.

Justices almost never attend hearings when they have disqualifed themselves. White's office said he has not decided whether to vote in the Denver case. White asked no questions during the hearing.

His vote could be critical in the case.

Last term, the court departed from its usually unanimous cause in a 5-4 decision disapproving the way a rural Virginia school district was splintered. White voted with the majority, and all four Nixon administration appointees comprised the majority.

A 4-4 vote in the Denver case would be a defeat for integrationists and could slow the pace of school desegregation throughout the North.

Ris rejected the idea that racial concentrations in some schools amounted to a constitutional violation.

Reds Overrun Old American Border Camp

Marks 1st Time
Ben Het Taken
During Entire War

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese forces today overran the Ben Het border camp in the central highlands, a legacy from the Green Berets that had withstood years of assaults.

A two day attack drove South Vietnamese forces from the camp for the first time in the war. This coupled with increased attacks in other parts of the highlands apparently signaled a renewal there of the offensive the North Vietnamese launched 6½ months ago.

The Saigon command said that two days of heavy shelling, in which at least 1,500 rounds of heavy artillery, rockets and mortar hit Ben Het, destroying the defenders' artillery, ammunition and a food warehouse.

Radio contact was lost with the camp Thursday night after units of the 320th North Vietnamese Division launched a ground assault, the chief spokesman for the Saigon command, Lt. Col. Le Trung Hien, said.

More than 100 strikes by American and South Vietnamese fighter-bombers and U.S. B52 bombers failed to drive off the North Vietnamese.

Hien said about 140 of the camp's 300-man garrison were spotted by observation planes southwest of the base and contact had been made with them.

There was no word yet on the fate of the other troops.

The mountain camp is just east of the triborder region where the frontiers of South Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos meet. It was established as an observation post to track North Vietnamese infiltration along the Ho Chi Minh Trail.

Ben Het has been virtually surrounded by the North Vietnamese for years, and periodically the enemy has laid siege to the camp. But this is the first time it has fallen.

Hog Cholera Cases Probed Under State Of Emergency

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio officials hope to lift hog cholera quarantines in Van Wert and Darke counties while enlarging a quarantine area in Fayette County.

The state plans came today after U.S. Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz in Washington declared that hog cholera outbreaks created a national emergency.

Dr. Harry Goldstein, chief of animal industry for the Ohio Department of Agriculture, said the quarantine in Van Wert County would be lifted today and the one in Darke County would end Monday.

He also said he expects reports on three suspected cholera cases in the Washington Court House area soon.

"We are ready to depopulate the three farms (in Fayette County) Saturday (if we have to)," Goldstein said.

The most recent outbreak of the disease, which affects only hogs and is always fatal, occurred last week in Fayette County. The number of hogs and the identity of the farms were withheld by county extension agent John Gruber, Gruber said tissue samples are being analyzed from the two farms involved.

Agriculture Department Animal Industry Division Chief, Dr. Harry Goldstein, said three positive cases are being investigated, although none of the three has been confirmed.

Butz said in Washington that the emergency designation is aimed at making more federal money and resources available to combat the disease which he said has claimed 39,000 hogs since July 1.

There were 3,624 hogs on 19 Ohio farms destroyed this summer and fall because of the disease, Goldstein said.

The outbreak in Ohio was first discovered late in August at the farm of Harry Hayslip near Washington Court House.

Goldstein said the last 13 hogs on the Hayslip farm were destroyed late last week after several others had died.

The hog cholera situation was declared an emergency earlier this week in Ohio by Agriculture Director Gene Abercrombie, and as a result more manpower will be made available to cope with the problem, Goldstein said.

Goldstein also renewed his earlier pleas for the owners of sick hogs to contact the proper authorities. "We think that's the answer," he added. "We've got to get the farmers to call us."

Hearing On Denver School Racial Mix Under Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has been told that Denver school officials intentionally promoted racial segregation by such "policy decisions" as the way they fixed attendance boundaries and built new schools.

Civil rights lawyer James M. Nabrit III appeared Thursday in the first school case from outside the South to be argued before the court since the 1954 ruling that racially separate schools are unconstitutional and must be desegregated.

The court took the Denver case under advisement for a decision later during its current term.

Nabrit, representing a group of black parents, said that even if the court does not find there was "illegal official action," there is enough evidence of inferior education in black and Hispanic schools to require system-wide desegregation.

William K. Riss, arguing in behalf of the school board, said Denver schools presented an educational problem "beyond the competence of the federal judiciary."

In a surprise development in the case, Justice Byron R. White—a Coloradoan—appeared in the court. He had disqualified himself from the case until Thursday, presumably because of a connection to it by his former law firm.

Justices almost never attend hearings when they have disqualified themselves. White's office said he has not decided whether to vote in the Denver case. White asked no questions during the hearing.

His vote could be critical in the case. Last term, the court departed from its usually unanimous cause in a 5-4 decision disapproving the way a rural Virginia school district was splintered. White voted with the majority, and all four Nixon administration appointees comprised the majority.

A 4-4 vote in the Denver case would be a defeat for integrationists and could slow the pace of school desegregation throughout the North.

Ris rejected the idea that racial concentrations in some schools amounted to a constitutional violation.

Arrests

James Theodore Huston, 47, Laurelville, intoxication.

Gerald Paul Leist, 34, 459 Dearborn Ave., assault and battery.

Michael E. Willoughby, 18, Circleville, possession of marijuana and illegal possession of prescription drugs.

Melody Mumaw, 18, 446 Watt St., disturbing the peace.

Brenda Mumaw, address unknown, assault and battery, additional charges pending.

'Ab' Spangler Dies 2 Weeks After Fall

Mr. C. Albert (Ab) Spangler, 57, Tarlton, died 12:45 a.m. Friday in University Hospital, Columbus, as a result of injuries sustained two weeks ago in a fall at John W. Eshelman and Sons plant, East Mill St.

A weighmaster, Spangler was an employee of the local feed manufacturing firm for the past 31 years.

He was a member of Tarlton United Methodist Church and a graduate of Saltcreek Twp. High School, class of 1932.

Born Oct. 17, 1914, in Tarlton, he was the son of Willison and Irene Roberts Spangler.

HE is survived by his widow, Mrs. Lucia Crider Spangler, two sons, Jerry, of the home; Charles, Gahanna, a teacher and assistant football coach at Eastmoor High School, Columbus; one sister, Mrs. Joseph (Ella Mae) Jenkins, Tarlton.

He was preceded in death by one son, Michael, who died Jan. 13, 1969, of wounds received in action in Vietnam.

Services will be 1:30 p.m. Monday at Defenbaugh Funeral Home with the Rev. Ralph Malcomb officiating. Burial will be in Tarlton Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home beginning 7 p.m. Saturday.

Belgian Priest Works Hard On Index To Bible

By CARL HARTMAN
Associated Press Writer
BRUSSELS (AP) — With the help of three Benedictine monks, two monks and one American computer, a Belgian priest is completing what he hopes will be the most useful index to the Bible yet produced.

The Rev. Georges Passaleq is himself a monk from the big Benedictine Abbey at Maredsous, known for its mild cheese and strong beer as well as for its deep learning. A bustling, sandy little man of 63, he spends only about a quarter of his time within its walls.

More often he can be found carrying a battered briefcase anywhere between the Brussels bank that lends him its computer and the pulpit of a synagogue in Cleveland, Ohio.

Just now he is concerned to get some publisher in the United States to translate his "Analytical and Analogical Index" from French into English. His computer can't do that. Father Georges speaks English himself as well as French, German, Dutch, Italian, Latin, Greek and Hebrew—but he says his job ought to be put into the hands of someone who can work in his own mother tongue.

"The Bible," he explains, "is the word of God and is used by religious Jews and Christians as a source of prayer and meditation. It is also a reference work used by every writer and reader who deals with history, philosophy, theology, ethics, ancient literature or even sociology."

He wants to provide these writers, students and readers with an easy to use reference tool that will help them find any passage they need.

This is not the first time a computer has been used for a scholarly religious work, but the authors think it has not been tried before on a religious book destined for general circulation.

Many indexes to the Bible, called "concordances," already exist. They list every passage in which a given word is used. Look up the word "crime," for example, and you will find that it does not appear often: no more than a dozen places in the Revised Standard Version, between Deuteronomy and the Acts of the Apostles. But there are more crimes than that in the Bible. How to find them?

Look up "crime" in Father Georges' index and you will get references not only to the word itself, but also to passages that recount specific crimes even though the word "crime" itself does not happen to appear in them: the murder of Abel, the rape of Tamar, King David's adultery and his plot against poor Uriah the Hittite.

Father Georges began his index in 1958 and after 10 years found he had collected 80,000 index cards. At this point he enlisted the help of the Revs. Ferdinand Powick and Eric de Borchgraeve from the Benedictine monastery at Quevy. With their help he arranged to share — at night, on holidays share in other free time — the IBM 370 computer of the Caisse Generale d'Epargne de la Retraite (CGER), a savings bank organized by the Belgian government.

When father Georges isn't indexing the Bible, delivering radio sermons, playing the organ—he won a first prize at the Brussels conservatory—or translating religious books, he is apt to be visiting Israel or the United States in pursuit of his other main interest: Jewish affairs.

Among his jobs is the supervision of relations between the Catholic Church in Belgium and the Jewish community.

He considers Pope Paul VI too preoccupied with the interests of the church in Arab countries and not sympathetic enough with Israel.

Father Georges' concern with Jewish affairs put him deep into underground work when World War II began. He was helping East European Jews who had earlier fled to the West to escape the Nazis, and who were being rounded up in Belgium by the German occupying forces.

Arrested himself in 1941 he spent the rest of the war in confinement—the last 10 months at the Dachau concentration camp. He used the time not only to perfect his languages but also to acquire considerable skill in barbering. It's an avocation he still enjoys practicing on his friends and their children.

Father Georges will be visiting the United States over Thanksgiving Day, with lectures scheduled in Washington, Cleveland, Hartford and at colleges in Pennsylvania and Minnesota. At the same time he will be looking for a suitable publisher to commission the translation of his index.

Drug Raid Nets 22

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — Marshall University officials report a quiet night on campus following a drug raid near the school in which 22 persons—at least half of them Marshall students—were arrested.

A similar drug roundup last April precipitated two nights of riots and near-riots at or near the 9,000-student school.

School officials pointed out that only two arrests were made on campus during the raid here Wednesday of suspected drug pushers, and that part of the arrests came in a surprise entrance by police into four residences bordering the university.

More than $1,000 worth of LSD, marijuana, amphetamines, hashish and unidentified pills and capsules were confiscated in the raid, according to Lt. Otis Adkins, head of the city's Drug Abuse Unit.

Marshall officials were forewarned of the raid.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

His Poetry Is Corny, But It's An Earful!

DEAR ABBY: About that man who sang to his tomatoes: I can top that. I read poetry to my corn.

After planting the seeds for sweetcorn, I got out my Shakespeare, turned to Julius Caesar and improvised:

"Sunshine, bumble bees and cornstalks.

Lend me your ears."

And believe me, it works. If you wish, I will send you a picture of the corn as it is now, growing rapidly in a flower box on my front porch. I hope you won't think this is too corny to print.

KERNEL SAM GUGGENHEIM
ROCHESTER, N.Y.

DEAR SAM: Never mind the picture. I'm a sucker for corn, so send me your ears?

DEAR ABBY: Just read your letter about the guy who thought "music" would help his vegetables grow, so he went out in the garden with a six-pack of beer and serenaded his tomato plants. Could he have been growing "stewed" tomatoes?

FORMER IOWAN
DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are middle-aged, with five children, ages ranging from 9 to 21 all home and, of course, in school.

My husband nets a fair income, and I have a part time professional job, a 12-room house, and am active in church and civil affairs.

The last two years the teenager children (ages 13 and 19) of my two married sisters have been hitchhiking to Mother's every time they have some difficulty at home. Mother isn't well (as my sisters know) and since Mother lives near me and I look after her, you know where the kids end up. That's right. With me!

We have trouble enough keeping our own kids in line without taking on the responsibility of our nieces and nephews and I am sick and tired of all the extra cooking and cleaning for these kids, not to mention the expense. I am fond of them, but I don't want them in my hair all the time.

Some of the kids are pretty far out, and already I see some of their kooky ideas beginning to take root, and I am honestly afraid of leaving them alone in my house when I go to work. I am all for sending them home after a week's visit, and making a rule to have only one of them here at a time. My husband says, "Ask Abby." What do you say?

STUMPED IN W. VA.
DEAR STUMPED: I say seven days of them would make one week! But don't surprise them with the news. Let them know NOW that you have placed a ceiling on their visits.

DEAR ABBY: I don't pretend to be a paragon of virtue, but I am a somewhat confused member of the male sex. I am not quite 85, but it burns me up when a young woman puts her arms around you, gives you a big kiss and all but waves the green flag at you (usually in front of other people) then shows virtuous indignation when you react like a healthy normal male. They get themselves up with their miniskirts, low necklines and all the rest of it, then play hard to get if we take the bait. Either leave us old boys alone or go for broke!

Radio City Music Hall Closed; 1st Time

NEW YORK (AP) — Radio City Music Hall, home of the high-kicking Rockettes and showcase for top Hollywood movies, closed its doors Thursday for the first time in its 40-year history in a dispute with the musicians' union.

James F. Gould, president of the Music Hall, announced Wednesday night that operations were being suspended because the musicians had rejected a contract offer. But a spokesman later stressed that the closing was "not permanent."

LEGAL NOTICE

Pursuant to Ordinance No. 57-72 sealed bids will be received by the Director of Public Safety, of the City of Circleville, Ohio at the office of the Mayor, until 12:00 Noon, October 27, 1972, for furnishing a Police Package automobile Police Cruiser for the Police Department of the City of Circleville, Ohio according to the plans and specifications on file in said Safety Director's Office. The lowest and best bid will be determined on the basis of a trade-in allowance for a 1971 Dodge automobile now owned by the City and in the possession and use of the Police Department of the City of Circleville, Ohio. Each bid must contain the full name of every person or company interested in the same, and be accompanied by a certified check in the sum of $2000.00, as a guaranty that if the bid is accepted, a contract will be entered into and it's performance properly secured. Should any bid be rejected, such check will be forthwith returned to the bidder, and should any bid be accepted, such check will be returned upon the proper approval and delivery of said car. Check shall be made payable to the City of Circleville.

IT'S BUCKEYE FOR TOTAL SAVINGS!

Risks Of Affluence

Every now and then a safety official plots some interesting charts on accidents which seem to suggest a relationship between good times and soaring accident rates. It is logical to assume that a relationship does exist.

Take the automobile. Not many motorists indulge in pleasure driving, during periods of recession, to the extent they do when prosperity is rampant. Nor do people go in for so many luxuries around the house which trap thousands of persons every year in home accidents.

There is plenty of statistical information available to support the theory that prosperity and high living standards do contribute to human accidents. Automobile registrations in the United States and accidents resulting from them are both the highest of any country in the world.

But even if it is agreed upon that there is a direct connection between prosperity and accidents, it seems to be pushing the theory a bit to relate it to the Dow-Jones averages, as one statistician tried to do.

This could result in safety officials spending their time reading the financial papers, and investors keeping one eye cocked for accident statistics.

Statistics Of Crime

Has the long-awaited turning point in the fight to reduce crime arrived? According to the FBI, the rate of increase has been slowed. And some cities report there is now a downturn instead of an increase.

The reasons why there has been a turn-about in crime is still in the area of guesswork, but it is probably the total impact of a sustained and carefully planned effort. Law enforcement has been tightened up all along the line, with an infusion of federal money assisting.

All of this must have an impact, and the impact is beginning to show. A whole year's figures will of course tell the complete story.

Merely halting the increase of either violent or serious crime is not the total objective. This is too high a plateau to accept.

The objective must be to turn the figures around, completely, and start a declining trend that will begin to restore public confidence in law enforcement and increase the degree of personal safety in the country.

Industry In Self-Defense

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Not so long ago Jeffrey St. John, a brash young conservative who says what is on the tip of his tongue, took the August firm of General Motors to task in the Wall Street Journal for its failure to stand up to its ideological enemies. Ralph Nader and GM, he said in effect, deserved each other. Since Mr. St. John doesn't think much of Nader, it was a harsh judgment.

True enough, GM had been shell-shocked. Instead of bringing an action against Nader for slandering the Corvair rear-engine car, which had been re-engineered to eliminate the faults of the original model by the time Nader's criticism was published, GM meekly acquiesced to the criticism by taking the car off the market. It also settled ignominiously with Nader for having tailed him with a private eye.

All of which prompted a friend of mine who happens to head a conservative university to ask, "Why isn't it all right for GM to investigate Nader if Nader has the right to investigate GM?" The query is piquant, to say the least. It could be fobbed off by saying that GM's business is affected by a public interest and hence open to investigation, but Nader is pretty much of a public institution too.

The Leftist critics of U.S. industry have been having it their own way since the late Upton Sinclair was a pup, but at last there seems to be a stir of rhetorical and analytical gumption in the managerial ranks. After listening to the TV specials and reading the mass magazines on the subject of a young worker revolt against the "blue-collar trap," George B. Morris Jr., the GM vice president in charge of industrial relations, actually had the gall to rip into the authors of certain accounts of a strike at the GM plant in Lordstown, Ohio. According to Mr. Morris, the "Lordstown School," which includes certain academics as well as politicians and commentators, tried to single out the Lordstown strike as something "marking the explosion of youth and its rebellion against the management and union establishment." "Nonsense," is Mr. Morris's characterization of the "Lordstown theory."

Mr. Morris does not deny that youth has been in rebellion, but as it happened, the strike at Lordstown grew out of the consolidation of a Fisher body plant and a Chevrolet assembly plant under the management of the GM Assembly Division. Because of the consolidation GM no longer had any need for two maintenance, two material or two inspection departments. The manpower reductions that followed the consolidation were resisted by a slow-down, and when GM took disciplinary action there were two reasons for a strike that had nothing to do with a "youth revolt." The same sort of strike took place in 1968 and 1969 when GM consolidated plant operations in Atlanta, Kansas City, Baltimore, Tarrytown and other places. But the GM critics weren't looking for a "rebellion against boredom" on the part of young workers then.

Now that Mr. Morris has broken what a Detroit journalist calls a "tight-lipped silence," one can only hope that it means U. S. business is about to stand up and slug it out with its critics. It's about time. I remember the day when Donald Rogers, the financial editor of the now defunct New York Herald-Tribune, tried to tell business that it should support journals that believe in the free enterprise system. But business wasn't listening. It let Mr. Rogers go into temporary oblivion for raising an indelicate question without lifting a finger to help him.

It has been a matter for public scandal that the advertising departments of big concerns do not favor publications that do their best to maintain a climate favorable to the free enterprise philosophy.

The usual excuse is that magazines ideologically committed to the free market do not sell goods. This excuse may have a short-run relevance, but if the climate of freedom falls, the long-run market for goods will fall along with it.

One swallow does not make a summer, and it could be that Mr. Morris's speech about the shoddy reporting and the shallow thinking of the "Lordstown School" critics of General Motors does not portend a whole new trend in industrial public-relations policy. Still, one lives in hope. I trust that we will be hearing from Mr. Morris for many years to come.

Horoscope Forecast

By Carroll Righter

SATURDAY'S HOROSCOPE

GENERAL TENDENCIES:

By smiling and showing you are willing to be of service to others, you can make this a successful day and evening. Daytime is best for positive and constructive actions on your part. The evening is likely to bring you some confusion, so don't make decisions in p.m.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Any outside duties you may have should be handled from the standpoint of cooperation and then you get right results. Improve your credit by paying that bill on time now. Don't try to lord it over others so much.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You have some fine ideas but require added information from others, so be sure you get it in a cooperative way. Make certain you understand every clause of any contracts you make. Do not lose time with time-wasters.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) If you contact experts early, you know better how to handle pressures that are confusing right now. Do not criticize mate but give encouragement needed. Reach a far better understanding.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) If you do some entertaining of associates today, you find you cement far better relations with them. Remain poised during some possible upset where the public is concerned. Think logically.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Get busy early improving your appearance so you are at your best and feel sure of yourself with others. Then get those dull duties behind you that are nonetheless important. Avoid one who likes to downgrade you.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You are in the mood for a good time and should follow along such lines so you feel and look happier. Take mate along with you and reach a better understanding. Don't forget to pay that bill first, though.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) It is important that you take care of those family affairs very wisely and tactfully today. Make your home a haven of rest, comfort and joy so that others are happy there. Do not criticize so much.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Taking short trips is fine for whatever reason, but be sure you drive with utmost care, especially on the highways and byways. Make sure you shop for the week ahead and save time. Fun at home in p.m.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You can add to waning funds by spending little now. Then investigate some new outlet that will be helpful. Make your home more smooth running and comfortable. Enjoy it more yourself thereby, too.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Although you may have anxieties, be sure to smile and not make others feel unhappy. Spend some time getting appearance improved before you sail forth socially later in the day. Make an excellent impression on others.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) A good day to plan good times with those who are congenial and you truly like for the weeks ahead. Then sit down with an expert and get the facts you need to gain your ambitions. Do not argue.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You should enlarge the circle of your good friends now since this can mean advancement for you in the future. Know what your real aims are and take steps in right direction to attain them. Don't permit lesser persons to deter you.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those charming young people who is poised and cool, who will objectively study what is wanted and make the right practical plans to attain aims, and build a solid foundation to the life early. Give the right training while young to bring out the good business since inherent here. Be a model for your child to follow, and provide early for the higher education your son, daughter should have. Ethics important early.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

by LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

I am a salesman. I had a leisurely six-hour drive through New England. When I came home, the left side of my face was paralyzed.

I am told this is Bell's palsy. Isn't it odd that it should have come on so rapidly while I was in perfect health?

Mr. E. W., R.I.

Dear Mr. W.: It is interesting that the paralysis occurred on the left side after an automobile trip. Physicians for a long time have suspected that a cold wind coming in from the driver's side may injure the facial nerve.

A similar observation was made in England where drivers sit on the right side. There, it was found that a greater number of cases of Bell's palsy occurred on the right side.

The condition was named after Sir Charles Bell, who first described it.

A large nerve known as the seventh, or facial, nerve of the head has three important branches. The first is distributed to the forehead. The second runs to the upper eyelid. The third controls the muscles of facial expressions around the jaw and lips.

An infection by a virus, a draft, complicated surgery of the mastoid bone, or a growth in the parotid salivary gland can injure the facial nerve. The result is that electrical currents are no longer able to pass through the nerve and move the muscles of the face.

One or more branches of the seventh nerve can be affected. Most cases due to a draft or virus infection last for about eight weeks. Recovery almost always occurs.

Tests with galvanic and faradic electrical currents follow the progress of the condition.

Sometimes, surgery is necessary to uncover the sheath that surrounds the nerve in order to release pressure and that surrounds the nerve in order to release pressure and give greater promise of recovery.

When the seventh nerve is cut during mastoid surgery, nerve transplants are sometimes used. When a Bell's, or facial, palsy first occurs, it should be treated immediately. Early treatment increases the chance of rapid recovery.

Why does my doctor refuse to tell me what my blood pressure is?

Mrs. E. H., Ind.

Dear Mrs. H.: I really don't understand why blood pressure numbers are considered by some doctors to be a carefully guarded state secret.

It has been my experience that mature people can be told about the two numbers—"one over the other"—and their significance.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — Interest rates are rising again, but not nearly so strongly as the crescendo of discussion about them. Nobody is certain how high they will go, but that isn't the chief topic of conversation.

More to the point is the question of the government's attitude and whether it will step into the picture with greater restraint on the rate-setting freedom of banks, perhaps even using direct controls.

That prospect is remote at the moment, but he very possibility is enough to disturb some bankers, who are still recovering from a profits pinch that lasted through 1971 and into the first months of this year.

The addition of new controls by the government would be a shock not only for bankers but for the entire business community, which has become accustomed in recent weeks to speculating about when wage-price controls would be ended. Speaking at the American Bankers Association annual convention in Dallas this week, the deputy secretary of the Treasury, Charles E. Walker, urged members to use restraint in their rating practices.

But it was his statement that long-term interest rates are too high and should come down that provokes speculation on the question, "What if they don't?" and suggests the chance of direct controls.

The government could act quickly. Already existing is a presidential interest and dividend committee assigned the job of maintaining interest rate stability. I is headed by Arthur F. Burns, who also heads the Federal Reserve.

Ironically, one of the pressures on rates comes from the government itself because of big budget deficits that must be financed through competitive borrowing in the market, thus reducing the supply of lendable funds.

Other borrowing pressure is exerted by the strengthening economy. As economic prospects improve, companies find themselves needing additional funds for expansion, and so the prime rate is up to 5.75 per cent from 5.5 a week ago.

Individuals too are more inclined to borrow as confidence returns. The outlook for prospective homebuyers is also one of higher rates, the result of a continued housing demand and a slackening of lendable funds as depositors reduce their rate of saving.

However, homebuyers might find themselves in a relatively better position than industrial borrowers. More than four million homes will have been built in 1971-1972, thus wiping out much of the backlog from 1969 and 1970.

According To Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — If you're losing your marbles, you ought to be the first to know, shouldn't you?

Then maybe you can do something about it before the word gets around.

That's why it's a good idea to check up on yourself occasionally, just to see if you need a few screws tightened or to rearrange your prejudices. In this civilization, having the right mental attitude is an integral part of the game.

Fortunately for you, today we have a do-it-yourself test that will enable you to tell whether you're still an average heel on an even keel, or whether you need to be docked somewhere for an overhaul.

Here is the test. All you have to do is answer the following simple questions. Try to be as honest as your nature will allow.

During a long drought, does it seem to you that more rain falls on the lawn of the expensive home owned by the guy across the street than falls on your lawn?

If you saw three great big bullies beating up on a guy twice your size, you'd just walk right by and let them go on having their fun, wouldn't you?

Mr. E. W., R.I.

Dear Mr. W.:

It is interesting that the paralysis occurred on the left side after an automobile trip. Physicians for a long time have suspected that a cold wind coming in from the driver's side may injure the facial nerve.

A similar observation was made in England where drivers sit on the right side. There, it was found that a greater number of cases of Bell's palsy occurred on the right side.

Dear Mrs. H.: I really don't understand why blood pressure numbers are considered by some doctors to be a carefully guarded state secret.

It has been my experience that mature people can be told about the two numbers—"one over the other"—and their significance.

Do you ask yourself at least a dozen times a month, "Where does all my money go," when you know darned well where your money goes?

Now and then don't you get the sneaking feeling that your favorite bartender is paying more attention to the woes of other guys at the bar than to your woes?

Doesn't it annoy you when your wife makes you sit still and snap beans for the dinner table while she is giving you a bawling out for your misdeeds?

No matter how understanding you try to be, don't you secretly feel that teen-agers of today are a bit dopier than when you were a teen-ager yourself?

Remember the officer you used to say you'd beat up as you got out of the service? If you bumped into him now, would you have two or three drinks with him for old times' sake, particularly if you figure he'd pick up the check?

And before you paid off all your old bills, wouldn't you first run up a bunch of new ones?

When you start worrying about our own mental health, don't you first tell yourself that, well, everybody you know is a little bit off his rocker, anyway?

Now to the score:

If you answered yes to most of these questions, you're just the kind of normal misfit who makes life what it is.

If you answered no to most of these questions, take the test over. You must have misunderstood the questions.

Laff-A-Day

"I came across this little place by accident, Lois, and it's just wonderful—everything is already thawed!"

Horoscope Forecast

By Carroll Righter

SATURDAY'S HOROSCOPE

GENERAL TENDENCIES: By smiling and showing you are willing to be of service to others, you can make this a successful day and evening. Daytime is best for positive and constructive actions on your part. The evening is likely to bring you some confusion, so don't make decisions in p.m.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Any outside duties you may have should be handled from the standpoint of cooperation and then you get right results. Improve your credit by paying that bill on time now. Don't try to lord it over others so much.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You have some fine ideas but require added information from others, so be sure you get it in a cooperative way. Make certain you understand every clause of any contracts you make. Do not lose time with time-wasters.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) If you contact experts early, you know better how to handle pressures that are confusing right now. Do not criticize mate but give encouragement needed. Reach a far better understanding.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) If you do some entertaining of associates today, you find you cement far better relations with them. Remain poised during some possible upset where the public is concerned. Think logically.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Get busy early improving your appearance so you are at your best and feel sure of yourself with others. Then get those dull duties behind you that are nonetheless important. Avoid one who likes to downgrade you.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You are in the mood for a good time and should follow along such lines so you feel and look happier. Take mate along with you and reach a better understanding. Don't forget to pay that bill first, though.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) It is important that you take care of those family affairs very wisely and tactfully today. Make your home a haven of rest, comfort and joy so that others are happy there. Do not criticize so much.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Taking short trips is fine for whatever reason, but be sure you drive with utmost care, especially on the highways and byways. Make sure you shop for the week ahead and save time. Fun at home in p.m.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You can add to waning funds by spending little now. Then investigate some new outlet that will be helpful. Make your home more smooth running and comfortable. Enjoy it more yourself thereby, too.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Although you may have anxieties, be sure to smile and not make others feel unhappy. Spend some time getting appearance improved before you sally forth socially later in the day. Make an excellent impression on others.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) A good day to plan good times with those who are congenial and you truly like for the weeks ahead. Then sit down with an expert and get the facts you need to gain your ambitions. Do not argue.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You should enlarge the circle of your good friends now since this can mean advancement for you in the future. Know what your real aims are and take steps in right direction to attain them. Don't permit lesser persons to deter you.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she will be one of those charming young people who is poised and cool, who will objectively study what is wanted and make the right practical plans to attain aims, and build a solid foundation to the life early. Give the right training while young to bring out the good business since inherent here. Be a model for your child to follow, and provide early for the higher education your son, daughter should have. Ethics important early.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

by LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

I am a salesman. I had a leisurely six-hour drive through New England. When I came home, the left side of my face was paralyzed.

I am told this is Bell's palsy. Isn't it odd that it should have come on so rapidly while I was in perfect health?

Mr. E. W., R.I.

It is interesting that the paralysis occurred on the left side after an automobile trip. Physicians for a long time have suspected that a cold wind coming in from the driver's side may injure the facial nerve.

A similar observation was made in England where drivers sit on the right side. There, it was found that a greater number of cases of Bell's palsy occurred on the right side.

The condition was named after Sir Charles Bell, who first described it. A large nerve known as the seventh, or facial, nerve of the head has three important branches. The first is distributed to the forehead. The second runs to the upper eyelid. The third controls the muscles of facial expressions around the jaw and lips.

An infection by a virus, a draft, complicated surgery of the mastoid bone, or a growth in the parotid salivary gland can injure the facial nerve. The result is that electrical currents are no longer able to pass through the nerve and move the muscles of the face.

One or more branches of the seventh nerve can be affected. Most cases due to a draft or virus infection last for about eight weeks. Recovery almost always occurs.

Tests with galvanic and faradic electrical currents follow the progress of the condition.

Sometimes, surgery is necessary to uncover the sheath that surrounds the nerve in order to release pressure and that surrounds the nerve in order to release pressure and give greater promise of recovery.

When the seventh nerve is cut during mastoid surgery, nerve transplants are sometimes used. When a Bell's, or facial, palsy first occurs, it should be treated immediately. Early treatment increases the chance of rapid recovery.

Why does my doctor refuse to tell me what my blood pressure is?

Mrs. E. H., Ind.

I really don't understand why blood pressure numbers are considered by some doctors to be a carefully guarded state secret.

It has been my experience that mature people can be told about the two numbers—"one over the other"—and their significance.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — Interest rates are rising again, but not nearly so strongly as the crescendo of discussion about them. Nobody is certain how high they will go, but that isn't the chief topic of conversation.

More to the point is the question of the government's attitude and whether it will step into the picture with greater restraint on the rate-setting freedom of banks, perhaps even using direct controls.

That prospect is remote at the moment, but he very possibility is enough to disturb some bankers, who are still recovering from a profits pinch that lasted through 1971 and into the first months of this year.

The addition of new controls by the government would be a shock not only for bankers but for the entire business community, which has become accustomed in recent weeks to speculating about when wage-price controls would be ended. Speaking at the American Bankers Association annual convention in Dallas this week, the deputy secretary of the Treasury, Charles E. Walker, urged members to use restraint in their rating practices.

But it was his statement that long-term interest rates are too high and should come down that provokes speculation on the question, "What if they don't?" and suggests the chance of direct controls.

The government could act quickly. Already existing is a presidential interest and dividend committee assigned the job of maintaining interest rate stability. I is headed by Arthur F. Burns, who also heads the Federal Reserve.

Ironically, one of the pressures on rates comes from the government itself because of big budget deficits that must be financed through competitive borrowing in the market, thus reducing the supply of lendable funds.

Other borrowing pressure is exerted by the strengthening economy. As economic prospects improve, companies find themselves needing additional funds for expansion, and so the prime rate is up to 5.75 per cent from 5.5 a week ago.

Individuals too are more inclined to borrow as confidence returns. The outlook for prospective homebuyers is also one of higher rates, the result of a continued housing demand and a slackening of lendable funds as depositors reduce their rate of saving.

However, homebuyers might find themselves in a relatively better position than industrial borrowers. More than four million homes will have been built in 1971-1972, thus wiping out much of the backlog from 1969 and 1970.

NEW YORK (AP) — If you're losing your marbles, you ought to be the first to know, shouldn't you?

Then maybe you can do something about it before the world gets around.

That's why it's a good idea to check up on yourself occasionally, just to see if you need a few screws tightened or to rearrange your prejudices. In this civilization, having the right mental attitude is an integral part of the game.

Fortunately for you, today we have a do-it-yourself test that will enable you to tell whether you're still an average heel on an even keel, or whether you need to be docked somewhere for an overhaul.

Here is the test. All you have to do is answer the following simple questions. Try to be as honest as your nature will allow.

During a long drought, does it seem to you that more rain falls on the lawn of the expensive home owned by the guy across the street than falls on your lawn?

If you saw three great big bullies beating up on a guy twice your size, would you just walk right by and let them go on having their fun, wouldn't you?

Mr. E. W., R.I.

Wife Of U.S. POW
Files For Divorce

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Tangee Alvarez, the wife of a Navy flyer the Defense Department says has been a prisoner of war longer than any other man in American military history, has filed for a divorce.

Mrs. Alvarez' family and attorneys confirmed Tuesday that she is seeking to end her marriage to Lt. Everett Alvarez, 34, who was shot down over the Gulf of Tonkin on Aug. 15, 1964 and captured by the North Vietnamese.

In fact, an understanding of the numbers may make patients adhere to treatment with greater fidelity.

The excellent drugs now available for some types of high blood pressure are remarkably effective in reducing the "numbers."

Since health is a mutual endeavor between doctors and patients I believe that patients should be given a greater insight into the mysteries of their bodies.

In rare instances, doctors may feel that certain patients would only be confused and terrified by numbers, and therefore spare them anxiety by not revealing them.

Benjamin Friedman, proprietor of he Ladies' Ready-to-Wear store known as the Bazaar, died of apparent heart failure at the William Penn Hotel in Pittsburgh, Pa. on Oct. 7. Mr. Friedman had been a guest of his sons, Leon and Theodore, in New York and was enroute home with Theodore when they stopped in Pittsburgh for Ted to perform.

A freight car shortage and transportation tie-ups were blamed for the slow-up of Ohio's

Do you ask yourself at least a dozen times a month, "Where does all my money go," when you know darned well where your money goes?

Now and then don't you get the sneaking feeling that your favorite bartender is paying more attention to the woes of other guys at the bar than to your woes?

Doesn't it annoy you when your wife makes you sit still and snap beans for the dinner table while she is giving you a bawling out for your misdeeds?

No matter how understanding you try to be, don't you secretly feel that teen-agers of today are a bit dopier than when you were a teen-ager yourself?

Remember the officer you used to say you'd beat up as soon as you got out of the service? If you bumped into him now, would you have two or three drinks with him for old times' sake, particularly if you figure he'd pick up the check?

And before you paid off all your old bills, wouldn't you first run up a bunch of new ones?

When you start worrying about our own mental health, don't you first tell yourself that, well, everybody you know is a little bit off his rocker, anyway?

Now to the score: If you answered yes to most of these questions, you're just the kind of normal misfit who makes life what it is.

If you answered no to most of these questions, take the test over. You must have misunderstood the questions.

Freak Show Law Is Struck Down

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—A state law banning freak shows is unconstitutional because it deprives a deformed person of his right to earn a living, the Florida Supreme Court has ruled.

"One who is handicapped or in an unfortunate position because of physical handicaps or deformities, in no wise of his own choosing, must be allowed a reasonable chance within his capacities to earn a livelihood," the court said Wednesday.

CHS Parents Invited For School Visit

Parents of high school students enrolled in Circleville Schools are invited to attend the annual Parents Back to School Night Oct. 24 beginning 7:30 p.m.

An invitation has been issued by Principal Paul L. Sarchet for parents of any sophomore, junior or senior students to meet in the high school auditorium on the designated evening for an opportunity to get acquainted with their child's teachers.

Following a brief orientation session, parents will be given the opportunity to visit four different classes of their choosing. All high school teachers will be present.

The staff is also opening all areas of the building to public viewing—classrooms, gymnasium, cafeteria and auditorium.

Each class session will be approximately 15 minutes in length during which the teacher will offer a brief description of the subject matter, its requirements and objectives and overall course of study.

Refreshments will be served in the cafeteria immediately following the four class sessions.

Showers Dot Wide Areas Of Country

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A persistent storm off the California coast pushed showers and thunderstorms onto the mainland today from Oregon and Idaho to New Mexico.

A few heavy thunderstorms hit southern Utah and New Mexico. Truth or Consequences, N.M., was drenched with more than 1½ inches of rain.

Temperatures were generally in the 40s and 50s from the Central Plains and upper Great Lakes region to the northern and Middle Atlantic States. But in some places chilly readings in the 20s were registered.

Most of the southern part of the nation had temperatures in the 50s and 60s with readings in the 70s in sections of Texas and Florida.

Scattered showers and thunderstorms touched areas from Oklahoma to southern New England. Most of the activity was in Oklahoma, Indiana, Tennessee and the extreme North-east.

Views On TV - Radio

NEW YORK (AP) — Political polls these days are falling upon us faster than autumn leaves. And you'll hear about them nearly every day on television right until the presidential race ends Nov. 7.

Many samplings concern the effect of the so called "youth vote" in the battle between President Nixon and Sen. George McGovern D-S.D. But the definitive youth poll already has been done by CBS.

It crept unnoticed into "60 Minutes" earlier this month and gave us the political word from 10 and 11 year old pupils at the Border Star School in Kansas City, Kan.

The poll drew no conclusions. It just let the 30 or so young respondents have their say about the two candidates—politicians in general and assorted campaign issues.

They began with correspondent Morley Safer's question about the difference between Nixon and McGovern on the issue.

"The target difference, I think, is that McGovern is a liberal and Nixon is conservative," one youth said. "And I'm totally against the war and my brother in four years will be able to be drafted."

"And Nixon said in '68 that if any man cannot get us out of a war in four years he deserves no more. And he himself has not done this."

Quartet To Sing At Laurelville

The Sound Of Action quartet of Circleville will present a concert of gospel hymns at the Trinity United Methodist Church in Laurelville 8 p.m. Sunday.

"I think McGovern said that he could end the war in 90 days if he got elected president," another boy said. "I don't think he can keep his promise."

"I just don't think that either one of them can really promise what they're promising," a third said. "They can't do it."

One girl had a peace plan and a question: "I don't see why the United States just can't surrender. Right then and there. Because — well, just make a peace treaty and tell them (the North Vietnamese) 'Why can't you guys just be friends?'"

On the vice presidential issue, one youth predicted that Spiro T. Agnew will "get a whole lot of votes because he's so popular they have watches made of him."

Demand Federal Jury KSU Probe

CLEVELAND, Ohio—Attorneys for nine persons involved in the May 1970 Kent State killings plan to file a suit in U.S. District Court in Washington, D.C. today, demanding a grand jury probe of the incident.

The "mandamus" action, naming U.S. Atty. Gen. Richard Kleindienst as the sole defendant, was to be filed on behalf of "all of the people involved," a Cleveland lawyer connected with the case said today.

Included on the petition are parents of all four students killed when National Guardsmen opened fire during student demonstrations, two of the nine students injured, and a New York man who investigated the tragedy on his own and wrote a book about it.

Freak Show Law Is Struck Down

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—A state law banning freak shows is unconstitutional because it deprives a deformed person of his right to earn a living, the Florida Supreme Court has ruled.

"One who is handicapped or in an unfortunate position because of physical handicaps or deformities, in no wise of his own choosing, must be allowed a reasonable chance within his capacities to earn a livelihood," the court said Wednesday.

CHS Parents Invited For School Visit

Parents of high school students enrolled in Circleville Schools are invited to attend the annual Parents Back to School Night Oct. 24 beginning 7:30 p.m.

An invitation has been issued by Principal Paul L. Sarchet for parents of any sophomore, junior or senior students to meet in the high school auditorium on the designated evening for an opportunity to get acquainted with their child's teachers.

Following a brief orientation session, parents will be given the opportunity to visit four different classes of their choosing. All high school teachers will be present.

The staff is also opening all areas of the building to public viewing—classrooms, gymnasium, cafeteria and auditorium.

Each class session will be approximately 15 minutes in length during which the teacher will offer a brief description of the subject matter, its requirements and objectives and overall course of study.

Refreshments will be served in the cafeteria immediately following the four class sessions.

Showers Dot Wide Areas Of Country

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A persistent storm off the California coast pushed showers and thunderstorms onto the mainland today from Oregon and Idaho to New Mexico.

A few heavy thunderstorms hit southern Utah and New Mexico. Truth or Consequences, N.M., was drenched with more than 1½ inches of rain.

Temperatures were generally in the 40s and 50s from the Central Plains and upper Great Lakes region to the northern and Middle Atlantic States. But in some places chilly readings in the 20s were registered.

Most of the southern part of the nation had temperatures in the 50s and 60s with readings in the 70s in sections of Texas and Florida.

Scattered showers and thunderstorms touched areas from Oklahoma to southern New England. Most of the activity was in Oklahoma, Indiana, Tennessee and the extreme Northeast.

Views On TV - Radio

NEW YORK (AP)—Political polls these days are falling upon us faster than autumn leaves. And you'll hear about them nearly every day on television right until the presidential race ends Nov. 7.

Many samplings concern the effect of the so called "youth vote" in the battle between President Nixon and Sen. George McGovern D-S.D. But the definitive youth poll already has been done by CBS.

It crept unnoticed into "60 Minutes" earlier this month and gave us the political word from 10 and 11 year old pupils at the Border Star School in Kansas City, Kan.

The poll drew no conclusions. It just let the 30 or so young respondents have their say about the two candidates—politicians in general and assorted campaign issues.

They began with correspondent Morley Safer's question about the difference between Nixon and McGovern on the issue.

"The largest difference, I think, is that McGovern is a liberal and Nixon is conservative," one youth said. "And I'm totally against the war and my brother in four years will be able to be drafted."

"And Nixon said in '68 that if any man cannot get us out of a war in four years he deserves no more. And he himself has not done this."

Quartet To Sing At Laurelville

The Sound Of Action quartet of Circleville will present a concert of gospel hymns at the Trinity United Methodist Church in Laurelville 8 p.m. Sunday.

"I think McGovern said that he could end the war in 90 days if he got elected president," another boy said. "I don't think he can keep his promise."

"I just don't think that either one of them can really promise what they're promising," a third said. "They can't do it."

One girl had a peace plan and a question: "I don't see why the United States just can't surrender. Right then and there. Because — well, just make a peace treaty and tell them (the North Vietnamese) 'Why can't you guys just be friends?'"

On the vice presidential issue, one youth predicted that Spiro T. Agnew will "get a whole lot of votes because he's so popular they have watches made of him."

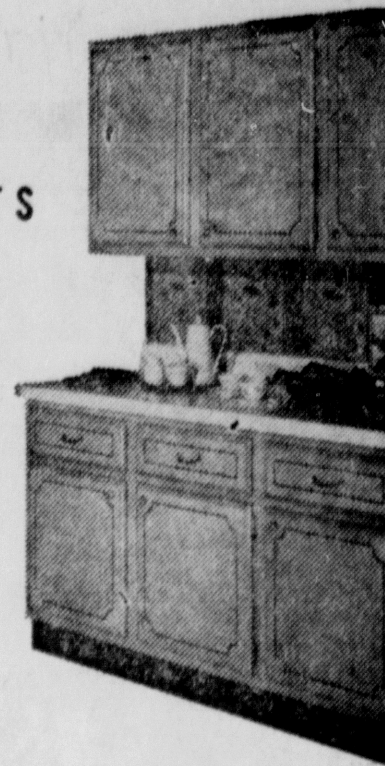

Demand Federal Jury KSU Probe

CLEVELAND, Ohio—Attorneys for nine persons involved in the May 1970 Kent State killings plan to file a suit in U.S. District Court in Washington, D.C. today, demanding a grand jury probe of the incident.

The "mandamus" action, naming U.S. Atty. Gen. Richard Kleindienst as the sole defendant, was to be filed on behalf of "all of the people involved," a Cleveland lawyer connected with the case said today.

Included on the petition are parents of all four students killed when National Guardsmen opened fire during student demonstrations, two of the nine students injured, and a New York man who investigated the tragedy on his own and wrote a book about it.

Weeks-Good Marriage Rites Read
In Alexandria Methodist Church

MRS. ROBERT DEWITT GOOD

The wedding of Miss Shirley Marie Weeks and Mr. Robert DeWitt Good took place 2 p.m. June 24th in Washington United Methodist Church of Alexandria, Va.

Dr. Ralph Robertson officiated the double ring ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Randolph Weeks, Alexandria, Va., and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Medford Good, Amanda, Ohio. Miss Elizabeth Good, sister of the groom, organist, provided a program of music preceding the ceremony.

The altar was decorated with a centerpiece of white carnations, snapdragons and gladioli, flanked with fern, palms and candelabra.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She selected for her wedding a full length white nylon organza gown with an A-line skirt in the front and tiers edged in lace forming the full back. The fitted bodice featured a lace edged scoop neckline, long full sleeves fitted from the elbows and enhanced with lace. The cathedral, lace edged train, was changed to a butterfly train for the reception. The bride's elbow length veil of tulle was held by a crown of pearls with a single stone centering her forehead. She carried a cascade arrangement of white carnations Fuji mums and pink sweetheart roses with ivy streamers.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Gloria A. Conner, sister of the bride. She was gowning in a pastel pink chiffon formal length gown with white brocade trim and carried a nosegay of pink carnations.

Bridesmaids were Miss Linda Weeks, of Alexandria, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Betty Logan. They wore full length empire gowns of pastel blue chiffon with white brocade trim and carried pink carnation nosegays.

Mr. William Smith of Columbus, Ohio, served as best man. Ushers were Mr. John R. Weeks and Mr. Edward Weeks, brother of the bride, of Alexandria.

The bride's mother was attired in a light blue A-line knit dress with white accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Mrs. Good wore an eggshell luxury satin dress with long lace sleeves, light blue accessories and white orchid corsage.

A reception at Landis Hall immediately followed the ceremony. The room was decorated with fern, palms, candles and a centerpiece on the bride's table of carnations. Hostesses were: Mrs. Mabel Craig and Mrs. Alvin Bell of Alexandria, Va.

For a wedding trip to Nags Head, N. C., the bride wore a white v-neck knit dress with orange accessories and matching corsage. The couple now resides at 6651 Tower Drive, Alexandria, Va.

The bride is a graduate of Hayfield High School in Alexandria and is employed by Ranch House Inc., Alexandria.

Mr. Good, a graduate of Amanda Clearcreek High School in Amanda, is employed by the Metropolitan Police Department in Washington, D.C.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Heffner, Salisbury, N.C.; Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Reed, Sea Isle City, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sullivan, Silver Springs, Md.; Mr. William Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Cloyce Smith, Columbus, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Marion S. Good, Circleville Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Medford Good and Miss Elizabeth Good, Amanda, Ohio.

Ashville News Report

Mrs. John Sabine — 983-2086

Joe Hoover underwent surgery on Thursday of last week. He is confined in Mercy Hospital, Columbus, in room 220.

Mrs. Tom Rathburn and children, Carrie Beth and Don, visited last week with her in-laws, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Rathburn. On Wednesday they all traveled to Cincinnati where they attended the Bob Braun 50-50 Club. It was Master Don's birthday and also the official opening of the Ruth Lyon's Christmas Fund so the audience sang "Happy Birthday" to the youngster.

Tom Rathburn arrived in Ashville over the weekend and a family dinner was held in celebration of young Don's birthday on Saturday. The family returned to their home in Matawan, New Jersey on Sunday.

Mrs. Doris Berger was a recent visitor in Ashville calling on relatives and friends in the village and the surrounding community.

The Pythian Sisters of Ashville Temple No. 366 will meet in the K. P. Hall on Tuesday for the regular monthly meeting. Time of the meeting will be 7:30 p.m. Serving on the social committee for the evening will be Betty B. Smith, Dorothy Cook, Dianne Hartley, Mary Ann Temple, Helen Cummins, Helen Kuhlwein, Rosemary Plum and Shirley Rathburn.

George Kirk of Powell Street was admitted to Berger Hospital Monday evening after suffering a light stroke at his home.

Attending the reception honoring Mrs. Garnet Reichelderfer of Circleville on Saturday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Baum, Mrs. Eveline Zwyer, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Peters and Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Hudson. The event was held at the Westfall High School.

Mrs. Reichelderfer was recently installed as the Grand Chief of Ohio in the Pythian Sister Organization.

The South Bloomfield Booster Club is sponsoring a Chili Supper at the Municipal Building on Saturday. Servings will begin at 4:30 p.m. It will be all-you-can-eat with the purchase of a ticket.

Miss Florence Brown is a medical patient in Berger Hospital in Circleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Schiff and David spent the weekend at Ft. Knox, Ky. visiting their son and brother, Mike, who is stationed there with the Armored Division of the U. S. Army. Family weekend was being observed at the Base.

Sunday will be Thank-offering Services at the First English Lutheran Church. All ladies of the church are asked to turn in their Thank-offering boxes at that time.

Harvest Home Festival will also be observed and those members who wish to contribute food are asked to have it at the church by noon on Saturday. The food contributed is then used for the decorating of the Church on Sunday and then given to the Lutheran Social Services in Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Budd of Beverly, Ohio, were Sunday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Rathburn. Mrs. Budd and Mrs. Rathburn were former schoolmates.

Teays Valley Music Boosters held their first meeting of the school year on Sept. 18 with a very good attendance.

President Carolyn Peters called the meeting to order. The nominating committee, Jane Wilson, Donna Harmon and Clarabelle Pobst, presented the following slate of officers for the coming year: President Gene Houser; vice-president Norma Goehenour; secretary Kay Ervin and Treasurer Mona Lee Trego. They were elected by the group.

The Boosters decided to buy twenty more uniforms to add to the new uniforms that were purchased last year. A discussion on buying some new parkas was held. It was decided to buy what was needed. They are a great help in keeping uniforms dry when the marching band is performing during rainy times.

It was announced that the jackets ordered last spring for the Junior High Bandmen should be in soon.

Band Directors Fred Brobst and Drexel Poling and Vocal Director, Miss Freeman, told the group of the activities for the coming year.

The marching band participated in Band Day at Ohio University at Athens on Sept. 9th. They also marched in a parade at the Orient State Institute on Sept. 11. They will participate in the West Jefferson Band Competition on Oct. 14 with many other bands. Teays Valley Band will participate in the parade of bands at 1 p.m. and approximately at 5:30 p.m. will march in the contest.

Let's support our band by getting to West Jefferson to watch them.

Mr. Poling told the Boosters that the Junior High Bandmen would be performing at the Junior High football games held at home this year. Both bands will also be marching in the Pumpkin Show parades.

Miss Freeman announced that the choir this year would consist of about 65 members and that she is hoping for even a more successful year than last year.

The band candy sale, a yearly project, began in September and will end on Oct. 13. Both Senior and Junior High bands and choir members participated in this sale.

The first fruit sale which will begin in November was also discussed.

Mr. Brobst gave a brief resume of the bands' trip to Europe after which the meeting was adjourned. The next meeting date is this Monday at 8 p.m. All parents of any of the music students are urged to attend this meeting.

Miss Nelle Oesterle, Mrs. Herman Berger and Mr. and Mrs. Gail Heffner attended the Bob Braun 50-50 Club in Cincinnati last Friday.

Bastian Funeral Home ambulance made the following runs this past week:

Oct. 5 — took Alma Smith to St. Anthony Hospital; Oct. 5 — took Froma Neff to Doctors Hospital; Oct. 7 — took Mr. Homer Todd to Berger Hospital following a car accident and also took Red Smith to Berger Hospital.

Oct. 10 — took George Kirk to Berger Hospital; Oct. 10 — took Florence Brown to Berger Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Gaylon Pobst and daughter Brenda recently attended the wedding of Miss Carol Unverzagt and Mr. Dean Armstrong in Cincinnati. Carol was Brenda's roommate at Ohio State University last year.

The Junior Youth Fellowship of the Zion United Methodist Church will be having a Bake Sale on Saturday in front of Bev's Beauty Shop on N. Long St. The sale is scheduled to start at 10:30 a.m.

Results of the Ashville Belles Tuesday Morning Housewives Bowling League for Oct. 10th were: High single game, Wanda Norman, 215; High three-game series, Jill Reese, 553; High team game and three-game series, Morrison's Market, 710 and 1908.

Mr. and Mrs. Steward Logsdon of San Bernardino, Calif. have visited the past two weeks with his mother, Mrs. Olive Morrison, and other relatives in the Ashville area.

Thirteen members of the Ashville Pythian Sisters were entertained on Tuesday evening by the members of Cypress Temple in Stoutsville for Friendship Night.

A bountiful buffet dinner was served at 6:30 p.m. Following the dinner several games were played as well as having a Ghost Story told. The theme for the evening in decorations and favors was centered around Halloween.

Those enjoying the evening were Hattie Rife, Florence Wharton, Georgia Hoover, Gladys Rush, Eveline Zwyer, Madge Baum, Judy Campbell, Betty J. Smith, Arlene Fortner, Francine Peters, Dorothy Cook, Betty B. Smith and Marilyn Sabine.

A most pleasant morning was enjoyed by the members of the Ashville Tops Thin Thinkers OH853 on Friday, Oct. 6th. Members weighed in from 9:30 to 10 a.m.

Just before the meeting started the four Ding-a-Lings, Shirley Cornelius, Georgia

Tigner, Rose Reese and Emily Berry, arrived dressed alike in long, very bright hostess gowns of orange and purple. This caused some commotion and things were off to a good start.

Clarabelle Pobst, co-leader, conducted the meeting. Roll was called with a total of 134 pounds lost this week. Fines were paid for gaining, ten cents a pound. The secretary and treasurer reports were read and approved. It was necessary to hold an election of officers for the coming six-month period. Janet Stebelton is the new leader and Emily Berry the secretary-treasurer.

Phyllis Wilson and Loraine Muncy were in charge of the entertainment. They presented two very clever games on calorie counting and losing weight sensibly. Pat Boswell and Shirley Cornelius were the winners.

Della Lynd was crowned our Queen for the past three-month period. Velma Shaw, who wasn't present, was the first runner-up. Della was presented a gift from the group; pictures were taken. Low calorie cookies, tea and coffee were served from a very pretty tea table.

New Secret Pal names were drawn. Small token gifts are to be given for special occasions and lots of cards sent to help your pal lose those unwanted pounds.

Margie Stickel made and passed a basket of pink and white fringed party poppers. Each girl took one and read what was inside such as, "Do you live on the Pounderosa?" "Why not move to Skinnerville?" or another one was "2, 4, 6, 8, who do men appreciate?—Skinny Women!" or, "Are you a sneaky snacker?" One read, "Congratulations, You have won the door prize". Emily Berry was the lucky winner.

We have our own mail delivery system since the postage is so high. It is known as the Stickel Delivery Service. Mail is posted in the entry hall when you arrive, before the meeting is adjourned our lady mail carrier comes in with this large hot-pink striped mail bag over her shoulder and distributes Secret Pal packages and cards. Those receiving cards on Friday were Jeana (Ala-Miget-A) Brumfield, Gypsy Rose Lee Reese, Georgia-Girl Tigner, My Little Margie Stickel, Betty Boop, Boop-a-doop Ballard, Doris Ding-Dong Bell and Shirley Creamed Filled Donut Cornelius.

The meeting room is very attractive now. It has been redecorated in soft pink and light avocado green walls. Floral drapes and new white blinds at the windows. A very relaxing atmosphere now.

See how much fun we have losing our extra pounds. Why don't you plan to join TOPS next week?

If you are unable to attend the Teays Valley High School football games on any Friday evening, you may hear the play by play description of the game over WNRE on Saturday mornings at 10:30 a.m. Commentator for the game is Bud Glitt with the color given by Bob Hoover. Several of the local businessmen and establishments make the broadcasts possible. Very enjoyable even if you have attended the game the night before.

On Oct. 1 the first meeting of the Junior UMYF of the Ashville Village Church was held in the church. Six members were present.

Elections were held and offices awarded to president Jeff Houser; vice-president, Jim Little; treasurer Don Vonlins; secretary Barbie Hedges and news reporter Susan Lutz.

A wiener roast was discussed by those present.

On Oct. 8, a wiener roast was held at the home of Barbie Hedges. Eight members were present. There were two new members and one guest.

Members decided to have a Halloween party and to dress in costumes. The date was not final. It will be held at the home of Gene and Polly Houser.

The group also decided to save box tops from Captain Crunch cereal to send to Korea and other places for food, clothing and supplies.

The next meeting will be on Oct. 22 at the church.

The October meeting of the Ashville Community Post of the American Legion Auxiliary was held on Oct. 9 at the Ashville Coffee Shop.

The following members were present: Ethel Siegle, Jane Wilson, Mary Costlow, Edith Brown, Janice Stansbury, Ruth Cline and Dorothy Courtright.

First on the agenda was payment of dues for the year by all present. Committee chairmen will serve in the same capacity as last year. They are Faye Sowers, Americanism; Ethel Siegle, Child Welfare; Donna Foreman, Community Service; Mary Costlow, National Security and Civil Defense Emergency Planning;

Edith Brown, Rehabilitation; Dorothy Courtright, Historian and Jane Wilson, Poppies. The next meeting will be held at the Coffee Shop on Nov. 13, 1972.

Ronda Sue Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Jackson of Route 2, Ashville, will represent the Walnut Township School in the Little Miss Pumpkin Show Parade and Contest next Wednesday. Ronda was the Little Miss 4th of July in 1971.

The nominating committee, Jane Wilson, Donna Harcourt and Clarabell Pobst, presented the following slate of officers for the coming year: President Gene Houser; vice-president Norma Gochenour; secretary Kay Ervin and Treasurer Mona Lee Trego. They were elected by the group.

The Boosters decided to buy twenty more uniforms to add to the new uniforms that were purchased last year. A discussion on buying some new parkas was held. It was decided to buy what was needed. They are a great help in keeping uniforms dry when the marching band is performing during rainy times.

It was announced that the jackets ordered last spring for the Junior High Bandmen should be in soon.

Band Directors Fred Brobst and Drexel Poling and Vocal Director, Miss Freeman, told the group of the activities for the coming year.

The marching band participated in Band Day at Ohio University at Athens on Sept. 9th. They also marched in a parade at the Orient State Institute on Sept. 11. They will participate in the West Jefferson Band Competition on Oct. 14 with many other bands. Teays Valley Band will participate in the parade of bands at 1 p.m. and approximately at 5:30 p.m. will march in the contest.

Let's support our band by getting to West Jefferson to watch them.

Mr. Poling told the Boosters that the Junior High Bandmen would be performing at the Junior High football games held at home this year. Both bands will also be marching in the Pumpkin Show parades.

Miss Freeman announced that the choir this year would consist of about 65 members and that she is hoping for even a more successful year than last year.

The band candy sale, a yearly project, began in September and will end on Oct. 13. Both Senior and Junior High bands and choir members participated in this sale.

The first fruit sale which will begin in November was also discussed.

Mr. Brobst gave a brief resume of the bands' trip to Europe after which the meeting was adjourned. The next meeting date is this Monday at 8 p.m. All parents of any of the music students are urged to attend this meeting.

Miss Nelle Oesterle, Mrs. Herman Berger and Mr. and Mrs. Gail Heffner attended the Bob Braun 50-50 Club in Cincinnati last Friday.

Bastian Funeral Home ambulance made the following runs this past week:

Oct. 5 — took Alma Smith to St. Anthony Hospital; Oct. 5 — took Fronia Neff to Doctors Hospital; Oct. 7 — took Mr. Homer Todd to Berger Hospital following a car accident and also took Red Smith to Berger Hospital.

Oct. 10 — took George Kirk to Berger Hospital; Oct. 10 — took Florence Brown to Berger Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Gaylon Pobst and daughter Brenda recently attended the wedding of Miss Carol Univerzagt and Mr. Dean Armstrong in Cincinnati. Carol was Brenda's roommate at Ohio State University last year.

The Junior Youth Fellowship of the Zion United Methodist Church will be having a Bake Sale on Saturday in front of Bev's Beauty Shop on N. Long St. The sale is scheduled to start at 10:30 a.m.

Results of the Ashville Belles Tuesday Morning Housewives Bowling League for Oct. 10th were: High single game, Wanda Norman, 215; High three-game series, Jill Reese, 553; High team game and three-game series, Morrison's Market, 710 and 1908.

Mr. and Mrs. Steward Logsdon of San Bernadino, Calif. have visited the past two weeks with his mother, Mrs. Olive Morrison, and other relatives in the Ashville area.

Thirteen members of the Ashville Pythian Sisters were entertained on Tuesday evening by the members of Cypress Temple in Stoutsville for Friendship Night.

A bountiful buffet dinner was served at 6:30 p.m. Following the dinner several games were played as well as having a Ghost Story told. The theme for the evening in decorations and favors was centered around Halloween.

Those enjoying the evening were Hattie Rife, Florence Wharton, Georgia Hoover, Gladys Rush, Eveline Zwyer, Madge Baum, Judy Campbell, Betty J. Smith, Arlene Fortner, Francile Peters, Dorothy Cook, Betty B. Smith and Marilyn Sabine.

A most pleasant morning was enjoyed by the members of the Ashville Tops Thin Thinkers OH853 on Friday, Oct. 6th. Members weighed in from 9:30 to 10 a.m.

Just before the meeting started the four Ding-a-Lings, Shirley Cornelius, Georgia

Tigner, Rose Reese and Emily Berry, arrived dressed alike in long, very bright hostess gowns of orange and purple. This caused some commotion and things were off to a good start.

Clarabelle Pobst, co-leader, conducted the meeting. Roll was called with a total of 13 3/4 pounds lost this week. Fines were paid for gaining, ten cents a pound. The secretary and treasurer reports were read and approved. It was necessary to hold an election of officers for the coming six-month period. Janet Stebelton is the new leader and Emily Berry the secretary-treasurer.

Phyllis Wilson and Loraine Muncy were in charge of the entertainment. They presented two very clever games on calorie counting and losing weight sensibly. Pat Boswell and Shirley Cornelius were the winners.

Della Lynd was crowned our Queen for the past three-month period. Velma Shaw, who wasn't present, was the first runner-up. Della was presented a gift from the group; pictures were taken. Low calorie cookies, tea and coffee were served from a very pretty tea table.

New Secret Pal names were drawn. Small token gifts are to be given for special occasions and lots of cards sent to help your pal lose those unwanted pounds.

Margie Stickel made and passed a basket of pink and white fringed party poppers. Each girl took one and read what was inside such as, "Do you live on the Pounderosa?" — Why not move to Skinnerville? — or another one was "2, 4, 6, 8, who do men appreciate?" — Skinny Women!" or, "Are you a sneaky snacker?" One read, "Congratulations, you have won the door prize". Emily Berry was the lucky winner.

We have our own mail delivery system since the postage is so high. It is known as the Stickel Delivery Service. Mail is posted in the entry hall when you arrive, before the meeting is adjourned our lady mail carrier comes in with this large hot-pink striped mail bag over her shoulder and distributes Secret Pal packages and cards. Those receiving cards on Friday were Jeana (Ala-Miget-A) Brumfield, Gypsy Rose Lee Reese, Georgia-Girl Tigner, My Little Margie Stickel, Betty Boop, Boop-a-doop Ballard, Doris Ding-Dong Bell and Shirley Creamed Filled Donut Cornelius.

The meeting room is very attractive now. It has been redecorated in soft pink and light avocado green walls. Floral drapes and new white blinds at the windows. A very relaxing atmosphere now.

See how much fun we have losing our extra pounds. Why don't you plan to join TOPS next week?

If you are unable to attend the Teays Valley High School football games on any Friday evening, you may hear the play by play description of the game over WNRE on Saturday mornings at 10:30 a.m. Commentator for the game is Bud Glitt with the color given by Bob Hoover. Several of the local businessmen and establishments make the broadcasts possible. Very enjoyable even if you have attended the game the night before.

On Oct. 1 the first meeting of the Junior UMYF of the Ashville Village Church was held in the church. Six members were present.

Elections were held and offices awarded to president Jeff Houser; vice-president Jim Little; treasurer Don VonIns; secretary Barbie Hedges and news reporter Susan Lutz.

A wiener roast was discussed by those present. On Oct. 8, a wiener roast was held at the home of Barbie Hedges. Eight members were present. There were two new members and one guest.

Members decided to have a Halloween party and to dress in costumes. The date was not final. It will be held at the home of Gene and Polly Houser.

The group also decided to save box tops from Captain Crunch cereal to send to Korea and other places for food, clothing and supplies.

The next meeting will be on Oct. 22 at the church.

The October meeting of the Ashville Community Post of the American Legion Auxiliary was held on Oct. 9 at the Ashville Coffee Shop.

The following members were present: Ethel Siegle, Jane Wilson, Mary Costlow, Edith Brown, Janice Stansbury, Ruth Cline and Dorothy Courtright.

First on the agenda was payment of dues for the year by all present. Committee chairmen will serve in the same capacity as last year. They are Faye Sowers, Americanism; Ethel Siegle, Child Welfare; Donna Foreman, Community Service; Mary Costlow, National Security and Civil Defense Emergency Planning;

Edith Brown, Rehabilitation; Dorothy Courtright, Historian and Jane Wilson, Poppies. The next meeting will be held at the Coffee Shop on Nov. 13, 1972.

Ronda Sue Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Jackson of Route 2, Ashville, will represent the Walnut Township School in the Little Miss Pumpkin Show Parade and Contest next Wednesday. Ronda was the Little Miss 4th of July in 1971.

Remember the story of the ant and the grasshopper?

One of the tales told us in our childhood. You remember, the ant worked and was comfortable while the grasshopper played all the time, and when the weather changed, was in trouble. The same can be true of people in respect to a savings program. Hadn't you better drop by The Savings Bank and begin your systematic savings plan?

Do you want to know what last night's dream about falling, traveling, or opening doors means? If you do, then you will want to check "How to Interpret Your Own Dreams (In One Minute or Less)" by Tom Chetwynd. The author spent ten years studying Freud, Jung, Adler, and other authoritative dream analysts. His dictionary provides 583 dream subjects with 1,442 interpretations. When a dream may be interpreted in one of several ways, the author rates the most likely and least likely interpretations. The book is written for the layman.

With Halloween approaching, interest in the occult, always a popular subject increases. In "The Occult" by Colin Wilson the author suggests that man possesses an undeveloped sixth sense of which he is unconscious. He also sets forth the startling idea that magic is the science of the future. He cites many cases of strange powers demonstrated by primitive witchdoctors and others throughout history who seem to have supernatural powers. "The Occult" is divided into three parts. In the first part the author suggests that there is a relationship between creativity and psychic sensitivity. The second part is a history of those whom he calls "mages." A "mage" is one who possesses strange powers like Nostradamus, Cagliostro, Mesmer, Aleister Crowley, Rasputin, etc. The third part concerns witchcraft, werewolves, ghosts and poltergeists.

In Marvin Karlins and Lewis M. Adreus' "Biofeedback", the authors explain the technique of controlling your state of health without the use of drugs. Biofeedback training has been used in hospitals and laboratories around the country to relieve insomnia, anxiety, and pain. The authors give advice on buying biofeedback machines which were available only to laboratories. They also give suggestions for the use of body charting for those who do not have access to the machines. They add that biofeedback machines have a great "sucker" potential, and advise prospective buyers to beware.

Alistair McLean, author of the best selling novels "The Guns of Navarone", "Caravan to Vaccaries" and "Bear Island" has turned to a real life hero for his latest book. "Captain Cook" is a biography of Captain James Cook who rose from obscurity to the rank of Post Captain of the Royal Navy. MacLean describes Cook's three amazing voyages, and his adventures as he explored lands unknown until he traveled there. He explored the Pacific, and mapped its islands. He charted the coast of New Zealand, sailed into Botany Bay, explored the Great Barrier Reef, and tried to find the Northwest passage. Well illustrated.

"The Superlawyers" by Joseph C. Goulden is an eye opening expose of the links between the big Washington law firms and the government. Some of the Superlawyers discussed are men like Clark Clifford, Abe Fortas and Tommy Corcoran. Also discussed is Richard M. Nixon during his "wilderness years" at Mudge, Rose, Guthrie, and Alexander. Goulden shows how these lawyers dominate the federal regulatory agencies. He tells how they cajole congressmen to gain legislative favors for their clients. He points out that they are violating the public interest, if not the public law.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

George Rowland, Jim Mowery, Martha Jean Carle McCoy, Paula Cook, Archie Rawlinson, Margie Drummond, Vicki Sykes, Joe Barthen, and in memory of Thurman See, Oct. 13; Kim Hughes, Penny Hastings Leist, Mike Duvall, Pam Garrison, Terry Davis, Gene Allen Bailey, Barry Russell, Oct. 14; Ned Morgan, Joe Trapp, Gary Moore, Miles Kahler, Eloise Walters, Oct. 15; Vicki Christopher, Becky Long, Michael Tarbill, Jackie Bigam, Brice Custer, Garnett Porter, Oct. 16; Lana Dee Keller, Ned Wallace, John W. Drummond, Brenda Cupps, Oct. 17; Vonna Mowery, Oct. 18; Gale Scribner, Sue Rihl, Willis, Kevin Weaver (?), Sheila Brown, Lillie Grabill, Vanessa Long, Roger Finch, Timothy Ayers, Doug Steck, Oct. 19. Special greetings to Martha Haller, Oct. 12.

Bill and Norma Keller, son Bill and daughters Nancy and Marilyn moved this past Saturday from their home of sixteen years on Route 138 to the Anderson farm on the Chillicothe-Williamsport Pike. Their new address is Route 2, Williamsport; zip code 43164 and their new phone number is 986-2875.

Bill is a seventh grader at Westfall Junior High; Marilyn, a '72 graduate of Westfall, is pursuing studies at Career Academy at Columbus with an eye toward being a Dental Assistant and Nancy is a licensed cosmetologist employed by Pat's Beauty Shop here in our village. Another Keller daughter is Mrs. Tim Hamilton, a teacher in the Logan Elm district.

Mr. Ray Smiley, who has many friends in this area, underwent surgery at a hospital in Dayton last week and is recuperating very nicely according to reports via phone by his wife Vida to Ray's mother. Mrs. Charles Smiley who is our town's dearly beloved ninety-eight year old sweetheart. Anyone wishing to send Ray a cheer card may do so by addressing it to him at 1045 Charwood, Dayton, Ohio zip 45432.

Don't forget Mrs. J. R. Bright in Room 888 at University Hospital who suffered a broken hip and remember Esther Bartholomew who is a patient at Berger Hospital room 107.

Paper Carrier

It came as a bit of a shock to the Herald customers in the south end of town Thursday evening not to receive a paper by carrier. The papers can be picked up at Reeser and Glitt grocery until such time as a carrier takes the route. What used to be a much sought after job for youngsters now seems to go begging more often than not. I wonder why?

Recent visitors in the home of A. J. and Juanita Cook and Shana Willis were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wills of the Pennsylvania country.

Float

If a wagon can be obtained, a float for the Williamsport Sulphur Spring Festival royalty will be built for the Pumpkin Show parades; however, the chairman, Suzan Bivens, is experiencing some difficulty in finding the right kind of wagon. Should any reader know of a wagon that could be used she would surely appreciate the information. Just call 986-9701.

Grandma Agnes Brayshaw was pleased to have her granddaughter Diane Murdock and hubby Jim of San Francisco, Calif. visit with her for a few days this week. The Murdocks had been with relatives in Michigan and Pennsylvania before arriving here to be with Grandma B and also with Pete and Pearl Cochenour. They visited with Uncle Jack Brayshaw and Patti, too.

Yours truly was hostess to Canasta Club on Tuesday evening with loot winners being Margene Looney, high; Pearl Cochenour, traveling; Lois Long, low; door prize went to the hostess. A secret sister gift was received by Colleen Justice who celebrated a birthday in October. Completing the tables were Esther Picklesimer, Mae Litter and Jackie Justice Hopper.

Would you believe that this is all I have to write about this week? Everybody is resting up for the Pumpkin Show, I guess. Several families plan to have house guests. In our home we expect to have neice Cindy McClure of Londonderry and neice Jo Lynne Gillfillan of near

Union Says Pay Hikes Guaranteed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The State Employees Union and the state will seek federal Pay Board approval for nearly $5 million in state worker salary hikes deferred by the board last winter.

The agreement was included in a journal entry filed Thursday to a suit against the state by a member of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees union.

According to Herschel Sigall, executive director of the union, 48,000 state workers are involved in the plan.

The union has agreed to halt any further action in a suit now pending in a state appeals court here involving the raises.

"Both the state and the union will return to the Pay Board in November to seek full implementation" of the raises granted by the legislature last Jan. 1, Sigall said.

Sigall said that 20,000 employees working for the state universities in Ohio are not a part of the agreement.

'Kind Guard' Bilks Woman

NEW YORK (AP) — A bank guard has been arrested and charged with bilking a blind customer when he helped her make withdrawals.

"Charlie was always so kind and obliging," said Juliette Silvers of Charles Harper, 22, "though he acted kind of slow and would sometimes say, 'Oh, I forgot to have you sign the slip—sign it here, please.'"

Miss Silvers, with her seeing-eye dog, was at the Bowers Savings Bank to talk over the situation with officials Thursday after Harper's arrest.

She had discovered, on a day when Harper was not at the bank, that her account had only $169.65 in it instead of the $2,857 the guard had told her was on deposit.

Bank officials said they would make full restitution.

Alistair McLean, author of the best selling novels "The Guns of Navarone", "Caravan to Vaccaries" and "Bear Island" has turned to a real life hero for his latest book. "Captain Cook" is a biography of Captain James Cook who rose from obscurity to the rank of Post Captain of the Royal Navy. MacLean describes Cook's three amazing voyages, and his adventures as he explored lands unknown until he traveled there. He explored the Pacific, and mapped its islands. He charted the coast of New Zealand, sailed into Botany Bay, explored the Great Barrier Reef, and tried to find the Northwest passage. Well illustrated.

'Kind Guard' Bilks Woman

NEW YORK (AP) — A bank guard has been arrested and charged with bilking a blind customer when he helped her make withdrawals.

"Charlie was always so kind and obliging," said Juliette Silvers of Charles Harper, 22, "though he acted kind of slow and would sometimes say, 'Oh, I forgot to have you sign the slip—sign it here, please.'"

Miss Silvers, with her seeing-eye dog, was at the Bowers Savings Bank to talk over the situation with officials Thursday after Harper's arrest.

She had discovered, on a day when Harper was not at the bank, that her account had only $169.65 in it instead of the $2,857 the guard had told her was on deposit.

Bank officials said they would make full restitution.

"The Superlawyers" by Joseph C. Goulden is an eye opening expose' of the links between the big Washington law firms and the government. Some of the Superlawyers discussed are men like Clark Clifford, Abe Fortas and Tommy Corcoran. Also discussed is Richard M. Nixon during his "wilderness years" at Mudge, Rose, Guthrie, and Alexander. Goulden shows how these lawyers dominate the federal regulatory agencies. He tells how they cajole congressmen to gain legislative favors for their clients. He points out that they are violating the public interest, if not the public law.

Paper Carrier

It came as a bit of a shock to the Herald customers in the south end of town Thursday evening not to receive a paper by carrier. The papers can be picked up at Reeser and Glitt grocery until such time as a carrier takes the route. What used to be a much sought after job for youngsters now seems to go begging more often than not. I wonder why?

Recent visitors in the home of A. J. and Juanita Cook and Shana Wills were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wills of the Pennsylvania country.

Floater

If a wagon can be obtained, a floater for the Williamsport Sulphur Spring Festival royalty will be built for the Pumpkin Show parades; however, the chairman, Susan Bivens, is experiencing some difficulty in finding the right kind of wagon. Should any reader know of a wagon that could be used she would surely appreciate the information. Just call 986-9701.

Grandma Agnes Brayshaw was pleased to have her granddaughter Diane Murdock and hubby Jim of San Francisco, Calif. visit with her for a few days this week. The Murdocks had been with relatives in Michigan and Pennsylvania before arriving here to be with Grandma B and also with Pete and Pearl Cochenour. They visited with Uncle Jack Brayshaw and Patti, too.

Yours truly was hostess to Canasta Club on Tuesday evening with loot winners being Margene Looney, high; Pearl Cochenour, traveling; Lois Long, low; door prize went to the hostess. A secret sister gift was received by Colleen Justice who celebrated a birthday in October. Completing the tables were Esther Picklesimer, Mae Litter and Jackie Justice Hopper.

Would you believe that this is all I have to write about this week? Everybody is resting up for the Pumpkin Show, I guess. Several families plan to have house guests. In our home we expect to have neice Cindy McClure of Londonderry and neice Jo Lynne Gillfillan of near Piqua to arrive Friday. Five teen-agers under one roof — saints preserve us all!

As superstitious as I am it is hard to believe that Friday the 13th plans are for me and my mother, Mrs. Earl Hardman of Chillicothe to depart for Indiana and a few days with relatives there. Had I realized sooner what the date was it might have been a different story. Oh, well, we will just cross everything that can possibly be crossed — this is to ward off all 13th evils. Wow! how sweet it is to cruise around town in a new "caddy" — well, almost new that is. You will still know us peasants, huh R.B.? Peace!

Union Says Pay Hikes Guaranteed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — November to seek full implementation of the raises granted by the legislature last Jan. 1, Sigall said.

Sigall said that 20,000 employees working for the state universities in Ohio are not a part of the agreement.

The agreement was included in a journal entry filed Thursday to a suit against the state by a member of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees union.

According to Herschel Sigall, executive director of the union, 48,000 state workers are involved in the plan.

The union has agreed to halt any further action in a suit now pending in a state appeals court here involving the raises. "Both the state and the union will return to the Pay Board in

Committee On Aging Airs Busy Agenda At Meeting

The Pickaway County Committee on Aging met Wednesday morning in the Senior Center, with the Rev. Donald Makarius, chairman, presiding.

Mrs. Ethal Mae Wolford, acting chairman of the by-laws committee, presented the corrected by-laws which were then adopted. She also thanked the Senior Center staff and the volunteers who are helping with Project FIND. This project is a federal one to find those who might be eligible for Food Stamp assistance but who are not now getting it.

Mrs. Twyla Lorentz, director of the Senior Center, gave a report on the quarter which ended September 30. She stated that the Center had a membership of 234 at that time. Special activities during the quarter included a picnic at Hargus Lake, bus trips to the Columbus Zoo, State Fair, Greenfield Village, and Akron as well as visiting the Harford Renick gardens and the Pickaway County Historical Museum.

Business meetings have been held twice per month either in Trinity Lutheran Parish House or the Grange building on the Fairgrounds. Some special services have been given to local citizens in the way of transportation to doctors, hospital, grocery shopping and helping move several persons from nursing homes to private homes.

Mrs. Vera Saunders, referral aide, has been making a survey of members to determine how many might need supplementary hospital insurance. This is being done with the purpose in mind of setting up the Pickaway Senior Center members, through the Blue Cross and Blue Shield program. Those signing up for such a program would have the privilege of transferring to individual coverage later on if such a situation would warrant it. At the present time, only the need for such a group coverage is being determined, so that a Blue Cross representative can be invited to come to talk to the members at a public meeting, and could answer all questions regarding the proposed insurance program. If anyone has questions about this, they are

NEBRASKA GRANGE

The October meeting of Nebraska Grange was conducted by Worthy Master, Ray Noecker. A communication was read from CROP and a letter of thanks was read from the Columbus State Hospital for recent contribution. An appeal for aid was granted for a needy Ross County Granger.

Ralph Barr was reported a patient in Mercy Hospital.

Plans were made for installation of the 1972-73 Officers by the County Youth Team to be held at the next regular meeting on November 7. Members are being urged to attend. The committee for the November meeting are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Duckel, Chairman; Mrs. Kathryn Reber, Mrs. Jean Crites and Eddie, and Mr. and Mrs. David Hedges.

Refreshments were served in the dining room at the close of the meeting by Mrs. Hazel Peters and Mrs. Fred Hedges.

Top Nixon Fund Raisers In Court Case

MIAMI (AP) — Three of President Nixon's top fund raisers have been ordered to appear as material witnesses in the Florida trial of Watergate defendant Bernard L. Barker.

Barker, is one of five men arrested in the break-in at Democratic headquarters in Washington. He is accused here of misuse of a notary public seal on a $25,000 campaign check from Kenneth Dahlberg, Republican finance chairman for the Midwest.

Dade County Criminal Court Judge Paul Baker signed an extradition order Thursday for Dahlberg, former Secretary of the Treasury, Maurice Stans and Hugh W. Sloan to appear at the Oct. 26 trial in Miami.

Meanwhile, Barker's attorneys subpoenaed The Associated Press, United Press International, 33 radio stations and six television stations in the Miami area to appear at a pretrial hearing today.

The subpoenas sought tapes, transcripts and files of news stories concerning "the Watergate Caper."

Judge Baker's order for the extradition of the three Republican figures said their appearance "could not be secured voluntarily."

Courts in Minnesota, Washington, D.C. and Virginia would have to rule on the extradition order if the three men refuse to appear.

Barker, a 55-year-old former Central Intelligence Agency operative, is accused of fraudulently using his notary public seal to acknowledge Dahlberg's signature on the $25,000 cashier's check.

The money, part of $108,000 from the Committee to Re-Elect the President, went through Barker's bank account at the Republic National Bank prior to June 17.

On that date, Barker was arrested with four others inside the Democratic offices in the Watergate complex in Washington.

Stans, Dahlberg and Sloan hold positions on the Committee to Re-Elect the President.

Judge Baker said they will be needed for approximately 12 days unless discharged sooner. The 12 days would end election day, Nov. 7.

Only the local newspaper sounds the community heart-beat.

Muskie Claims Campaign 'Riddled With Sabotage'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edmund S. Muskie said his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination was riddled with an "astounding series" of incidents of apparent espionage and sabotage.

Though sidestepping accusing specific individuals, the Maine Democrat and his staff suggested Thursday that Republicans were to blame.

Muskie said he has not ruled out the possibility of filing suit against the Committee for the Re-election of the President and certain White House officials linked in published reports of alleged sabotage.

The occurrences labeled suspicious by the Muskie staff peaked during the period the senator was considered the frontrunner for the nomination subsequently won by Sen. George McGovern.

Tax Distribution Made By State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Auditor Joseph Ferguson today announced October sales tax distributions of $3.9 million to 88 counties and 296 municipalities.

A total of $3,666,666 was sent to the counties, while $333,333 was shared by the cities and villages.

In passing the income tax law, the legislature provided that the first $4 million a month in income taxes would go into the local government fund, one-twelfth of which would go to cities and villages having income taxes, the remainder to the counties.

Clyde Gibson of Logan.

A city or town is the reflection of its newspaper. Good, wide awake aggressive towns most always have a good newspaper. And vice versa.

The incidents dropped off when Muskie's campaign faltered.

The list released by the Muskie staff included possible cases of wiretapping, stolen documents, forged campaign literature, false news releases, and bogus telephone calls arousing voters in the middle of the night.

The list was prefaced with the admonition that the incidents had not been thoroughly investigated and were "not intended at this time as charges against any individual or group."

John T. McEvoy, the senator's administrative assistant said the incidents "were not undertaken in the spirit of fun. They were undertaken to destroy a candidate."

Muskie said, "Over the past 18 months, there have been a number of inexplicable incidents that seem to us to be inevitably involved with somebody's sabotage effort."

In a related development, Chairman Wright Patman was stymied in efforts to conduct House Banking Committee hearings on financial aspects of the investigation of the break-in and alleged bugging of Democratic headquarters in the Watergate building.

Republicans on the committee boycotted the session Thursday, as did the four White House and re-election committee officials who Patman, D-Tex., had invited to testify.

3 Slain In Shootout

NEW YORK (AP) — A federal undercover agent and two men identified by officials as suspected cocaine dealers were shot to death in a West Side motel Thursday night when a trap laid by narcotics agents backfired and a gunfight ensued.

A supervisory agent was critically wounded.

A Bureau of Narcotics spokesman said the two men had agreed to sell the undercover man 10 kilos of cocaine for $160,000 but then, in a doublecross, tried to rob the agent without delivering the drugs.

The dead agent was identified as Frank Tumillo, 25, who had been with the bureau for four years. Officials said he had made contact with the two men two weeks ago.

They agreed to sell Tumillo the cocaine and a meeting was set up for Thursday night.

Miss Nye Joins CHS Faculty

By BARBARA SOUDERS
Kathy Nye, 70 W. Walnut St., Westerville, is the new French teacher at CHS.

MISS KATHY NYE
French Teacher

She attended the University of Strasbourg in France and Otterbein College where she was a member of Drill Team, Concert Band, Torch and Key Sorority, Freshman Honorary, Language Honorary and a member of the Foreign Study Committee.

She lists her hobbies as all sports, music and sewing. In her spare time she helps with The Otterbein Drill Team and attends sports functions.

Miss Nye says, "I hope to make French an interesting language so that the students will be able to use what they have learned."

With a smile on her face she released her future plans as hoping to get married within the next year or so.

Miss Nye likes Circleville and thinks the students are a lot more sincere and considerate than at other schools where she has taught.

Dianna Kiger, a senior, resides at 314 Logan St. with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kiger, five brothers and one sister.

DIANNA KIGER

Dianna is employed by George Bingham at the G. C. Murphy Co. Some of her duties as salesclerk include waiting on customers, straightening counters and ringing sales on the cash register. Dianna works a minimum of 15 hours a week.

To obtain her job, she had to make an appointment with Mrs. Ater to take a test. After the test was graded, Dianna participated with others prospective employees in a training program which was carried out in a classroom-type atmosphere. She was also given training on the sales floor by regular Murphy employees.

Dianna believes it is easier to obtain a job while belonging to DECA. She feels DECA has helped her to learn the responsibilities of a job and has taught her the marketing and distribution process.

Listed as Dianna's likes are reading, crocheting, pizza, bicycle riding and helping people who need help.

Dianna plans to keep working in the future so she can attend college to earn a degree in marketing.

Band 'Vans' Tour Ohio For Music

By JUNE BRUDZINSKI and DEB BRIAN

A frantic dash to the bus ... a blend of voices raised in harmony ... the hassle of getting into uniform.

Such is a typical Friday night for the band when it travels to football games by bus caravan. Members arrive at the school 45 minutes to one minute before departure time and, since every man is for himself, each one rushes into the band room and then loads his instrument on the van.

"That's the senior bus — no juniors or sophomores allowed!" is a familiar cry as the buses pull into the parking lot. Each class usually has its own bus and a fourth bus takes care of any remaining. As the vehicles heave into sight, mass pandemonium breaks out in a mad scramble for seats.

Once on the way, the band resembles a choir more than an instrumental organization. Honorary members Gert and Henry, disguised as guitars, lead the seniors in every type song imaginable.

Underclassmen also chime in with their own special versions, but as soon as the caravan reaches the opponents' hometown, these songs halt and chants of "Tigers are Number One!" echo from bus to bus, growing fiercer and louder as the band nears the high school.

Before the bright yellow vehicles are even stopped, most of its passengers are hurriedly getting dressed, quite a feat in such cramped quarters. The buses are parked and members stream out and hurry to their instruments.

When Mr. Dean yells "Band attention!", the students fall into formation and march proudly to the field to a snappy drum cadence.

After the game, the group's first concern is to struggle out of limp uniforms which are promptly stuffed into garment bags and piled on the junk seat.

Despite the game's outcome, members maintain good spirits on the journey home, and alert Roundtown to their arrival with the never-ending cheers of "We are the Tigers!"

The band is indebted to its "regulars." These are bus drivers Noble Barr, Mrs. Joanne Johnson, Edward Brungs, Mrs. Juanita Garrison and Martin Snyder, plus the parents who volunteer their time to chaperone and Clarence Happeny, who provides transportation for the musical equipment with his massive "Band Van."

Injuries Bench Two

By DAVE TRUEX
Injury is the enemy of every football team.
For the CHS squad, this fact hit hard in pre-season conditioning when two players, Greg Williams and Wade Camp, were sidelined for the entire season with leg injuries. Still assets to the team, both boys came to all practices, team meetings, and games.

A senior, Greg "Willie" Williams, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Williams, 540 Ridgewood Drive. On Aug. 30 at the London scrimmage, he was illegally hit while attempting to punt. The result was a serious knee injury requiring two and a half hours of surgery.

"Discouraging" was his description of sitting on the sidelines. Willie's plans for the rest of the year and after graduation include getting back into shape for golf and hopefully going to college to participate in golf.

Residing at 525 Green Acre Court, with his parents Mr. and Mrs. William Camp, Wade Camp broke his leg in non-contact drills in early August. A year ago, he broke the same leg when hit during practice.

Wade said it was "demoralizing" to sit on the sidelines with an injury. In December he will begin exercising his leg to regain strength in preparation for next year.

Courage and determination describe these two athletes as they battle back from their injuries.

All-Male Class Unique For CHS

By LAURIE AYERS

"Do you have to write down everything I say?" was the first reaction of Miss Parker, when interviewed about teaching an all-male government class.

At the beginning of the year, there was one girl in the class now comprised of boys, but she transferred out.

"It's more, uh ... challenging," Miss Parker stated hesitantly. "You have to consider about 17 times what you say, to make sure there's nothing derogatory about it; you have to try a different approach to everything, like keeping them quiet." She prefers not to expound on that statement.

"The first day of school I didn't realize that the class was all male until I started looking around and taking a head count. I kept thinking that the girls would all come in any minute. The boys were shocked, too, when they found there were not any girls. They decided it was going to be a weird class."

Asked if it was hard to teach the class, Miss Parker replied, "I've found that girls keep a class a lot calmer, but it's not so difficult as you'd think."

Runners Face Tough Schedule

By GLEN GILLESPIE

Circleville Cross-Country team faces its toughest week in its tune-up for the district and state competition.

Tomorrow morning at 9:30 the Tiger runners compete at the Rio Grande Invitational, which features tough teams and the most demanding course in the state.

On Oct. 18 Circleville travels to the Fairfield Invitational at 4:15 p.m.

On the following day the Tigers face Southeastern in a home duel meet at 4:30 p.m.

The cross-country team still needs more fans and would appreciate any supporters to come and cheer. A meet usually takes approximately 15 minutes.

The cross-country team schedule is as follows:

Oct. 24—at Lancaster, 4:30 p.m.; Oct. 26—at Hamilton Twp., 4:30 p.m.; Oct. 28—District at Raymond Memorial Golf Course; Oct. 31—With Lancaster, 4:30 p.m.; Nov. 4—State at Scarlet and Gray Golf Course.

Team Performs In Serene Surroundings For Victories

SWINGERS—Their swings are aimed at little white spherical objects and their eyes looking toward victory. These are members of the CHS golf team, comprised of: Terry Spellacy, Mark McFadden, Jeff Spires; back, Mike Cairnes, Bruce Rickerd, Tom Hamilton. Not present was Mike Currie.

Away from the cheering crowds, in the serene surroundings of the Pickaway Country Club, the CHS golf team plays its matches.

The team consists of seven members. They are senior Mike Cairns; juniors, Tom Hamilton, Terry Spellacy and Bruce Rickerd; sophomores Jeff Spires, Mark McFadden and Mike Currie.

The boys are under the fine coaching of Steve Brudzinski who, since late September, has had them practicing about 12 hours a week.

On Oct. 2 the team played their first match of the year against Columbus North. Since North only brought four players, Currie, Cairns and Rickerd did not get to shoot in competition, but the others definitely did perform.

The scoring was as follows: Spellacy, 43, Spires, 41, McFadden, 42, and Hamilton, 44, for a total of 170. North: Miller, 36, Britton, 38, Duncan, 48, and Spirit Links Join Classes, Raise Funds

By PAT CURRIE

"Here's another quarter's worth!" "Oh, boy! Somebody just gave us a five!" "Hurry up! The Sophomores are ahead of us!"

These are some of the shouts and exclamations that could be heard at lunch time in CHS last Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, as sophomores, juniors and seniors fought to have the longest chain of "spirit" links.

By selling paper links for a penny apiece, the CHS Student Council not only succeeded in making money, but also in firing up the spirit of the school for the homecoming game last Friday night.

(By the way, the seniors won!)

Bombs, Grenades Found In Office

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—

Police say an undisclosed number of pipe bombs and two grenades were found in a raid Wednesday on an East Side storefront formerly used by a Black nationalist group.

Detectives said a custodian called police when he came upon the explosives in the space vacated by the African People's Party. Also confiscated were three motorcycles, a Black Nationalist flag, Communist literature and some bows and arrows, police reported.

Miss Nye Joins CHS Faculty

By BARBARA SOUDERS

Kathy Nye, 70 W. Walnut St., Westerville, is the new French teacher at CHS.

Miss Nye chose Circleville for her first job because she wanted to work around central Ohio and Circleville seemed like the type of school in which she wanted to teach.

MISS KATHY NYE
French Teacher

She attended the University of Strasburg in France and Otterbein College where she was a member of Drill Team, Concert Band, Torch and Key Sorority, Freshman Honorary, Language Honorary and a member of the Foreign Study Committee.

She lists her hobbies as all sports, music and sewing. In her spare time she helps with The Otterbein Drill Team and attends sports functions.

Miss Nye says, "I hope to make French an interesting language so that the students will be able to use what they have learned."

With a smile on her face she released her future plans as hoping to get married within the next year or so.

Miss Nye likes Circleville and thinks the students are a lot more sincere and considerate than at other schools where she has taught.

Her opinion of today's youth is high. "I think the youth now are a lot more concerned about worldly affairs rather than just their own wordly environment. I think they have a lot to offer, if people would only listen to them."

New Writing Course Offered

By PAT CURRIE

A new course is open to CHS seniors this year.

Wallace Higgins, a well-known history teacher here, is conducting an Historical Seminar class, the purpose of which is to teach students how to research and write term papers.

Class time is spent learning how to write footnotes and bibliographies, and in discussing various writing techniques. Students also learn how and where to find resources for a termpapers.

Highlight of the class comes at the end of the 5th grading period, when students must hand in a research paper, at least 25 pages long, on any historical subject they choose.

Willie's Dillies

By BILL McGAFFNEY
Herald Sports Editor

It was a big week for area football fans with all four schools coming up with key victories in crucial grid encounters — The first time this has happened in quite awhile.

Not only were they key wins but two of them came in homecoming games which always makes it a little extra.

Credit has to go to the coaches and gridders of the area schools who have come up with some pretty fair squads this year and from all appearances will get better as the season rolls along.

At this stage of the game, we find Circleville on top in the South Central League — Logan Elm sharing the Scioto Valley Conference lead — Teays Valley breathing down the neck of the Metropolitan League leader — and Westfall getting on the winning trail with a big win over Paint Valley.

All four coaches, Larry Cook at Circleville — Dick Kidwell at Teays Valley — Bob Stant at Logan Elm — John Glanton at Westfall, are putting in football programs that have shown promise and if we stick with them it looks like we'll have some fine grid teams for years to come.

We were especially glad to see Glanton and his Mustangs come up with their first win as they have been working hard and needed this to make them realize it is beginning to pay off.

From our seat in the press box — We may be a little optimistic — But we can see where three league trophies could be added to area showcases — Wouldn't that be something?

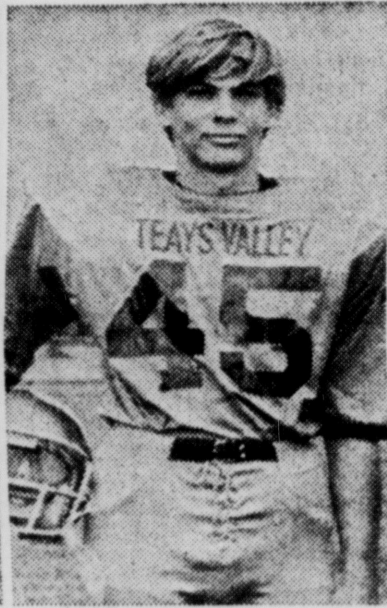

Our "fearless" forecast — Circleville will avenge "Custer's Last Stand" when the Indians come to town . . . Teays Valley will throw the Roughriders . . . Logan Elm will stop Piketon . . . Westfall will stall the Shermans of Unioto . . . It will be the Reds in six games in the Series . . . Bears will claw the Browns . . . Chiefs over the Bengals . . . Cowboys will ride the Colts to victory.

Until next time, have a nice day — be a good sport.

Tiger Cross Country Team At Rio Grande Invitational

Rio Grande College will host its second annual Cross Country Invitational this Saturday at Evan's Field. The meet will include five colleges and 38 high school teams from all three classes.

In high school competition, a first place team trophy will be awarded to the winner in each class and a trophy will be presented to the first five individual finishers. Runners placing sixth through tenth will receive medals. In the college division, trophies will be given to the winning team and the runner up squad. Also, the top seven runners will take home an individual trophy. College Division teams entered are: Cleveland State University, Lakeland Community College, Union College, West Virginia Tech and Rio Grande. Marietta, who won the Invitational last year, will not defend its title.

The Redmen last year placed second to Marietta and had three men among the first seven to cross the finish line. Rio's Ken Sanders, Jack Finch, and Bruce Melton were fifth, sixth and seventh respectively. With last year's college competition, a new course record was established at Evan's Field. A runner from Mt. Vernon set the new mark.

The high school entrants are represented by nine class "A" teams, 14 from double "A", and fifteen in "AAA". The class single "A" teams are from: Bethel Tate, Caldwell, Federal Hocking, Greenview, Ridgedale, Southeastern, Triad, Waterford, and Batavia. Bethel Tate and Caldwell finished one-two a year ago.

"AA" schools participating are: Circleville, Coshocton, Edgewood, Heath, Indian Lake, Ponton, Lake, Lakeview, Little Miami, Mt. Gilead, Ridgewood, Urbana, Ross Senior High School, and Wheelersburg.

Oakland Wins AL Pennant

By LARRY PALADINO
Associated Press Sports Writer
DETROIT (AP) — In 1931 Herbert Hoover was President, champagne was illegal, and Manager Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics were the American League baseball champions.

A lot has changed in the 41 years since but one thing is the same—the Athletics, now of Oakland, are again AL champions.

They will carry the pennant into Cincinnati where they'll face the National League champion Reds beginning Saturday in the World Series.

It took the maximum of five games, but the A's finally overcame the Detroit Tigers with a 2-1 victory Thursday to take the AL playoffs.

"The day I got traded (from the Chicago Cubs) Dick Williams called me at my house and said, 'We're going to put you in the World Series.' And damned if he didn't," said Oakland pitcher Ken Holtzman, smiling as he sat quietly in front of his clubhouse locker.

Most of his teammates were exploding champagne corks, splashing beer, hugging each other, and yelling with joy. Even millionaire owner Charlie Finley joined in, pouring champagne on dry heads and crying with happiness at the moment which seemed to be slipping away after Tiger victories Tuesday and Wednesday.

Holtzman is Manager Williams' choice to pitch the Series opener and the A's will have suspended shortstop Bert Campaneris back in action, although Reggie Jackson may be out with a pulled hamstring muscle suffered in a successful steal of home plate Thursday.

The A's won Thursday on the strong arms of John "Blue Moon" Odom and Vida Blue, plus some questionable Tiger fielding and the running of Jackson and his replacement, George Hendrick.

Winner Odom gave up an unearned run in the first inning as he pitched a two-hitter for five frames before getting an upset stomach. Blue finished the job with a lightning fast-ball, allowing three harmless singles in picking up the save.

Campaneris, suspended by AL President Joe Cronin for the last three playoff games for throwing a bat at Detroit pitcher Lerrin LaGrow, joined in the Oakland post-game bedlam but wasn't saying much.

It was learned Thursday night that Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn will permit Campaneris to play in the Series.

Jackson opened the A's second with a walk off loser Woodie Fryman, stole second, and reached third on a long fly out by Sal Bando.

Mike Epstein was hit with a pitch and Gene Tenace struck out before Epstein broke for second on a steal, hoping Tiger catcher Bill Freehan would throw to second and give Jackson a chance to steal home. And that's what Freehan did, both runners sliding in safe.

Jackson was injured in the slide and replaced by Hendrick, who reached first leading off the fourth on a throwing error.

Hendrick took second on Sal Bando's bunt and scored the winning run on a single by Tenace.

Left fielder Duke Sims was a little slow getting the ball out of his glove on the hit. It was a close play at the plate and Freehan let the throw slip away; however, Hendrick was ruled safe before that.

Oklahoma Favored To Top Texas In Red River Classic

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
For the first time in nine years Oklahoma is favored over Texas in the 67th renewal of the Red River Classic in college football Saturday.

The clash between the nationally second-ranked Sooners and the 10th-ranked Longhorns in the Cotton Bowl is one of two games pitting teams in The Associated Press Top Ten against each other. Eighth-ranked Louisiana State and ninth-ranked Auburn battle at Baton Rouge in the other.

These two games between four nationally rated and unbeaten teams spice the week-end fare on collegiate grid-irons.

Coach John McKay's unbeaten and top-ranked Southern California Trojans seek their sixth in a row against California.

In other games involving the AP Top Ten, No. 3 Alabama takes on Florida, No. 4 Ohio State faces Illinois, No. 5 Michigan tangles with Michigan State, No. 6 Nebraska battles Missouri and No. 7 Notre Dame engages the Pitt Panthers.

No. 12 Washington opposes

No. 17 Stanford and No. 13 Colorado is pitted against No. 18 Iowa State in games pairing teams in the AP Second Ten.

No. 14 UCLA plays at Oregon State, No. 15 Penn State is at Army, No. 16 Air Force is at Boston College, No. 19 Oklahoma State is at Virginia Tech while No. 20 Arkansas hosts Baylor. No. 11 Tennessee has an open date.

While the Sooners are favored, Oklahoma fullback Tom Welch says the game with the Longhorns is "going to be a real battle. I don't think people are taking them serious enough. They've got as good a team as they've ever had."

A sellout crowd of 71,938 is assured for the game with another SRO turnout of 67,500 set for the night encounter between LSU and Auburn at Baton Rouge. Charles McClendon is looking for his 84th victory to become the winningest coach in LSU grid annals.

California is ineligible for the Rose Bowl, but the Bears hope to throw a roadblock in the path of the Trojans. "USC is the game we've been waiting for," said Cal coach Mike White.

Nebraska's Cornhuskers, the defending national champions, are favored to defeat Missouri and continue their climb back to the top after their first game upset by UCLA.

Tiger Runners Rip Greenfield

Circleville's cross country runners captured the first eight places to crush Greenfield, 15-66, in a dual meet Thursday.

Dick Liston toured the course in 9:19 to place first in the meet.

Jeff Robbins was second in 9:46; Matt McGowan, third, 10:04; Glen Gillespie, fourth, 10:17; Steve Watters, fifth, 10:18; Robin Martin, sixth, 10:25; Bill Massie seventh, 10:38; Keith Stevenson, eighth, 10:48.

Other Circleville finishers were: John McCoy, 10th; Ed Brown, 11th; J. C. Timberlake, 14th; Frank Plescia, 16th; Tom Spring, 18th; Dwight Plum, 19th.

The victory ran Circleville's season record to 7-0 and they will run in the Class AA division of the Rio Grande Invitational 11 a.m. Saturday.

Little Vikings

Upend Westfall

Teays Valley Junior High gridders ran their season record to 4-0 with a 20-8 win over Westfall Thursday on the Vikings' turf.

The little Vikings opened the scoring in the first quarter when Gary Lewis rammed over from the 2-yard line.

In the second canto, Miles Glover powered over from the 3-yard line and then raced over for the conversion. Lewis again hit paydirt from the 2-yard line in the second frame to complete the Viking scoring.

Westfall got onto the scoreboard late in the fourth frame when the fullback bulled his way over from the 2-yard line.

Teays Valley coaches singled out Ron Little and Lance Roese for their great defensive play.

The little Vikings will be at Reynoldsburg 6 p.m. Thursday.

Tiger Junior High Blanks Mt. Logan

Two touchdown passes and a fine defensive effort gave the Circleville Junior High squad a 14-0 decision over Chillicothe Mt. Logan Thursday on the latter's field.

Bill Mogan fired a 35-yard touchdown aerial to Randy Happeney and then connected with Mearle Logan on a screen pass that covered 50 yards for the little Tigers second score.

Circleville coaches named Happeney offensive Tiger in the game and praised the entire defensive unit for outstanding play.

They will be back in action Thursday at Lancaster Sherman.

Bay Phantom Man Jr. Wins At Beulah Park

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Beulah Parks featured eighth race Thursday was won by Bay Phantom Man Jr. The winner covered the six furlongs in 1:12 2-5 beating Lot O Song to the wire by a head.

Bay Phantom Man Jr. paid $10.60, $5.40 and $4.40. Lot O Song paid $3.60 and $3.00. Mentone paid $6.40 to show.

Noah Count and Marge's pick (9-9) combined for a $322.20 daily double.

ND Invitational Meet To Be Held Saturday

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Saturday's 17th annual Notre Dame Invitational cross country meet will have 28 teams competing, including defending champion Bowling Green, Ohio. Last year's individual titlist was Bowling Green's Dave Wottle, an Olympic Gold medalist this year who has graduated.

McDowell Loses, 12-6

McDowell Junior High football team lost to unbeaten Piketon, 12-6, Thursday.

Dave Calton scored the TD for McDowell. The next game for the little Braves will be at Westfall Oct. 26. McDowell has an 0-3-1 record.

It was a big week for area football fans with all four schools coming up with key victories in crucial grid encounters — The first time this has happened in quite awhile.

Not only were they key wins but two of them came in homecoming games which always makes it a little extra.

Credit has to go to the coaches and gridders of the area schools who have come up with some pretty fair squads this year and from all appearances will get better as the season rolls along.

At this stage of the game, we find Circleville on top in the South Central League — Logan Elm sharing the Scioto Valley Conference lead — Teays Valley breathing down the neck of the Metropolitan League leader — and Westfall getting on the winning trail with a big win over Paint Valley.

All four coaches, Larry Cook at Circleville — Dick Kidwell at Teays Valley — Bob Stant at Logan Elm — John Glanton at Westfall, are putting in football programs that have shown promise and if we stick with them it looks like we'll have some fine grid teams for years to come.

We were especially glad to see Glanton and his Mustangs come up with their first win as they have been working hard and needed this to make them realize it is beginning to pay off.

From our seat in the press box — We may be a little optimistic — But we can see where three league trophies could be added to area showcases — Wouldn't that be something?

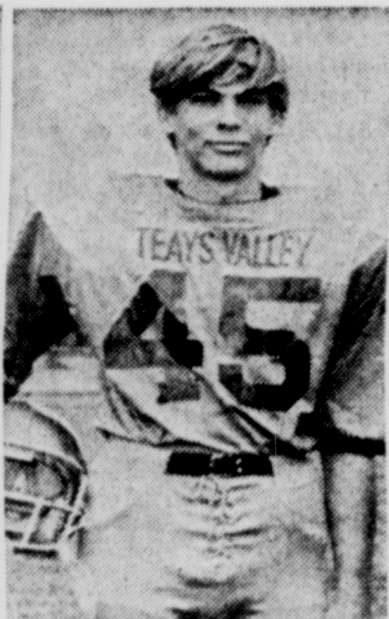

Our "fearless" forecast — Circleville will avenge "Custer's Last Stand" when the Indians come to town . . . Teays Valley will throw the Roughriders . . . Logan Elm will stop Piketon . . . Westfall will stall the Shermans of Unioto . . . It will be the Reds in six games in the Series . . . Bears will claw the Browns . . . Chiefs over the Bengals . . . Cowboys will ride the Colts to victory.

Until next time, have a nice day — be a good sport.

Grid Picker Still Likes Dolphins

By HUBERT MIZELL

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — No-body's going unbeaten in the National Football League. No-body... including the Miami Dolphins. Sooner or later, somebody'll get 'em.

But, not this week. San Diego's suddenly-super Chargers should bite the lint in the Orange Bowl as the Dolphins go 5-0 with the toughest part of their schedule behind them.

Elsewhere in the NFL, the hour of decision will come for at least two erstwhile powerhouses, the Minnesota Vikings and Baltimore Colts. Each is 1-3 and another defeat will just about kill playoff hopes.

Game by game, here's the call for Sunday-Monday: Miami 24, San Diego 10: It looks like a ground war and Miami has a tank in Larry Csonka, a bazooka in Jim Kiick and a rocket in Mercury Morris that gives it the edge. Both defenses are underrated.

Oakland 30, Buffalo 14: The Raiders have their offense untracked and George Blanda shouldn't have to be summoned for heroics.

San Francisco 38, New York Giants 17: The Giants have beaten the NFL's two weakest teams, Philadelphia and New Orleans, but their defense can't hold John Brodie and pals.

Green Bay 17, Detroit 13: The Packers' Scott Hunter should have a good battle with Detroit's Greg Landry, but defense should still be the key in the well-matched Monday night TV special.

Atlanta 27, New Orleans 14: The Saints haven't won in four starts and are solid picks to make it five. The Falcons need only to continue improving their offense to be true division contenders.

Cleveland 24, Chicago 14: The Bears are 0-3-1 and seem headed for another winless weekend although running quarterback Bobby Douglass and powerful Cyril Pinder give Chicago at least a chance for an upset.

Kansas City 24, Cincinnati 17: This matchup of division leaders is perhaps the NFL's game of the week. The Bengal offense finally got rolling last week, but the Chiefs provide too tough a barrier.

Dallas 13, Baltimore 10: Neither team has been outstanding, but the Cowboys keep getting by. Colt luck has been sour and a sudden spree by John Unitas seems Baltimore's only hope for not sitting out the playoffs.

Pittsburgh 21, Houston 14: The Oilers aren't as bad as they looked last Monday night... nobody is. But, they're not good enough to win just yet with quarterback Dan Pastorini.

Los Angeles 27, Philadelphia 10: The Eagles are well balanced, poor on both offense and defense.

Minnesota 20, Denver 7: Tarkenton wins one and keeps the Vikings alive for a fifth straight division title while the Purple Gang does reasonably well in hemming up Floyd Little and his playmates.

New York Jets 24, New England 17: This one is an air fight between Joe Namath and Jim Plunkett and the Broadway one usually gets the best of such things.

Washington 35, St. Louis 24: Sonny Jurgensen is back and Gary Cuozzo has pumped offensive life into the Cardinals, making this one of the better shows of the weekend.

Chicago Bears Rap Dick Gordon Ruling

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Bears labelled "unfair" the decision of National Football League Commissioner Pete Rozelle when they learned Thursday that Dick Gordon would go to the Los Angeles Rams for a 1974 draft choice. George Halas Jr. expressed "shock" and "bitter disappointment" that Gordon, a wide receiver, would go to the Rams "for a first-round draft choice two years from now." Gordon, 28, became a free agent after playing out his option with the Bears last season.

EXECUTOR'S SALE

NINE ROOM FAMILY RESIDENCE

with PIPE ORGAN — HOUSEHOLD ITEMS

Thursday, October 19, 1972

Beginning at 1:00 P.M.

Located: At 1020 Millwood Avenue, being lots 155, 156, 157 in the Millwood Addition in Washington C. H., Ohio. Property has 120' front with 170' depth.

Property sells at 2:00 P.M. on premises.

This two story frame home has four ample sized bedrooms with closets, full bath, all off central hall upstairs (two stairways). Downstairs has your parlor off the entrance hall, as well as the long audience room (32' x 15') for this pipe organ, which is well installed and in good state of condition, plus large kitchen with dining area and large downstairs bedroom. Partial basement has practically new Janitrol forced air furnace, large blower for the pipe organ. Two car garage and extra storage room. A few minutes of your time will . . . may we say, be rewarding.

TERMS: 10% down day of sale and balance within 30 days. Possession on passing of deed. Property has been appraised at $13,750.00 and must not sell for less than 2/3 of this appraised price.

Escapee

Captured

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—A 24-year-old fugitive from the Federal Youth Center in Ashland, Ky., sought by the FBI for more than a year, has been arrested here by FBI agents.

Thomas Farrow, agent in charge of the Baltimore FBI office, said Charles Leroy Bell, who escaped from the center Sept. 4, 1971, was arrested Wednesday at an apartment where he had been living under the name of William Rhyne.

Bell had been convicted in U.S. District Court, Columbus, Ohio, on Feb. 12, 1971, on a charge of transportation of a stolen car.

Originally from Jackson, Ohio, Bell was serving a two-year sentence.

He is in a prison here pending a U.S. Bureau of Prisons decision on his return to Ashland.

Escape Plot Discovered

MEDIA, Pa. (AP)—A Toledo, Ohio, woman convicted in the murder of two Delaware State policemen was transferred from Delaware County Prison last July after it was discovered she plotted an escape with a male prisoner.

The move was made public Wednesday.

Mrs. Marilyn Ann Dobrozenski, 19, was transferred to the State Correctional Institution at Muncy, near Williamsport, on July 20.

Delaware County Judges Francis Catania and John Diggins confirmed that they approved a transfer request by county prison officials after the plot was discovered.

Judge Catania said prison officials found a letter sent by Mrs. Dobrozenski to an unidentified male inmate in which the alleged escape plot was described.

Escapee

Captured

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—A 24-year-old fugitive from the Federal Youth Center in Ashland, Ky., sought by the FBI for more than a year, has been arrested here by FBI agents.

Thomas Farrow, agent in charge of the Baltimore FBI office, said Charles Leroy Bell, who escaped from the center Sept. 4, 1971, was arrested Wednesday at an apartment where he had been living under the name of William Rhyme.

Bell had been convicted in U.S. District Court, Columbus, Ohio, on Feb. 12, 1971, on a charge of transportation of a stolen car.

Originally from Jackson, Ohio, Bell was serving a two-year sentence.

He is in a prison here pending a U.S. Bureau of Prisons decision on his return to Ashland.

Escape Plot

Discovered

MEDIA, Pa. (AP)—A Toledo, Ohio, woman convicted in the murder of two Delaware State policemen was transferred from Delaware County Prison last July after it was discovered she plotted an escape with a male prisoner.

The move was made public Wednesday.

Mrs. Marilyn Ann Dobroslenski, 19, was transferred to the State Correctional Institution at Muncy, near Williamsport, on July 20.

Delaware County Judges Francis Catania and John Diggs confirmed that they approved a transfer request by county prison officials after the plot was discovered.

Judge Catania said prison officials found a letter sent by Mrs. Dobroslenski to an unidentified male inmate in which the alleged escape plot was described.

"The honor of the Republican party is dead," Shriver said. "And now under Nix it looks as if you can't succeed in politics unless you have a spy, an electronic bug to put on your opponent's telephone, unless you force, unless you steal, unless you go burgling in the night that's the degradation of politics."

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew was campaigning for Republican senatorial candidates. In Roswell, N.M., he attended a rally and endorsed Pete Domenici, but he declined to support continued federal financing of a local job-training center for Indians, which Domenici aides said was important for his election chances.

How Weather Looks Today

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Here is the Ohio weather summary from the National Weather Service:

The cloud cover over Ohio has begun to dissipate in the northwest, where temperatures dipped because of clear skies. The mercury in Toledo dropped below freezing at dawn today as a result.

The clear skies will spread south and east today causing overnight temperatures to drop in other portions of the state. At dawn with the cloud cover still dominant, Cincinnati reported 51 degrees, while Cleveland, Akron and Canton had 46 degrees.

Lows tonight will dip into the 40s. Highs on Saturday will range from 60s to 70s.

FORECASTS
OHIO — Clear tonight. Lows in the mid to upper 40s. Cloudy north Saturday and partly cloudy south. Highs from the low 60s to the low 70s.

NORTHWEST INLAND — Clear tonight. Lows in the mid 40s. Saturday cloudy and turning cooler late in the day. Highs in the mid to low 60s.

WEST CENTRAL, CENTRAL, EAST CENTRAL — Clear tonight with lows in the mid 40s. Partly cloudy and warmer tomorrow. Highs 65 to 70.

SOUTHWEST, SOUTHEAST — Clear tonight. Lows 45 to 50. Mostly sunny and warmer Saturday morning turning cloudy in the afternoon. Highs in the upper 60s and low 70s.

3-Car Mishap Injures Woman

A three-car accident 5:49 p.m. Thursday in an alley between E. Mound and E. Franklin Sts. resulted in injury to a 40-year-old Circleville woman.

Helen L. Burns, 107 Parkview Ave., was treated at Berger Hospital for a cut knee suffered when her car was struck by an auto driven by Wesley M. Edstrom, 61, 123 Seyfert Ave.

According to the report of Pl. Jim Francis, the Burns auto was southbound in the alley when it was struck on the left rear fender by the westbound Edstrom car. The impact threw the Burns vehicle into a parked car belonging to Jerry Riffle, Stoutsville.

Rep. Collins Said Stalling Damage Claim

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The lawyer for State Sen. Oakley Collins, R-18 Ironton, was accused Thursday of trying to delay settlement of a national damage claim brought against Collins until after the Nov. 7 elections.

U. S. Justice Department attorney, Irwin Schroeder, handling the government's case against the Collins Mining Co., said he expected a final financial offer for an out of court settlement from Collins' attorney, John Muething, by Friday.

Schroeder said "we have told Mr. Muething it would be a one-shot deal. If we can't settle we'll file against Collins."

Muething, of Cincinnati, refused Thursday to discuss the claim.

Schroeder had said the Justice Department would file a civil damage suit against Collins before the end of September unless an out-of-court agreement could be reached.

Federal investigators have recommended that the Justice Department seek up to $600,000 in damages caused by trespass and illegal strip mining of 32.6 acres of Wayne National Forest near Ironton.

Collins contends he owes the government no more than $5,000 for the trespass, which he claims was an accident.

Wednesday, Collins said he doesn't expect resolution of the claim until after the election. Collins is running for the state House of Representatives.

Muething represented Collins earlier when the lawmakers were fined $1,500 on criminal charges of illegal strip mining of national forest land.

praising. Special mention was made of the late Joe Burns, who owned Butch's Jewelry in Circleville, for the part he played in forming and serving as president of the AGS. Guests of Rotary this week were Earl Barnhart, Don Bayless, Larry Plum, and Charles Thomas.

Costumes Get Top Billing In Week's Fashion Showing

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Costumes of every variety, except the Halloween kind, are getting star billing at this week's California Fashion Creators showings for next spring and summer.

The description applies to dozens of looks—from the classic blazer suit to boutique nostalgia outfits to movie costumes from the new musical "Lost Horizon."

To veteran California dress designers such as Michael Calderon and Fred Rothschild, costume is a trim blazer or waist-long battle jacket over a dress, skirt or pants.

To the "new faces" of West Coast fashion, young boutique firms as W.W. Duke and Gunne Sax, costume means a look of the past. Gunne Sax specializes in long Victorian fluffery with mutton sleeves and apron fronts.

Chessa Davis, designing for W.W. Duke, has created the costume skirt of the year, "peddler's cloak skirt."

Inspired by the legends of ancient peddlers who made their cloaks from scrap, Miss Davis invents a color-mad skirt, not of scraps, out panels of varicolored cloth, patchwork strips, plaids and gingham.

The most unusual act in the show by far was Jean Louis' previews of his dazzling costumes for the upcoming "Lost Horizon."

Academy Award winner Louis has wrapped the stars, men and women, in exotic voluminous caftans. He-men like Peter Finch and George Kennedy, shown in film clips from the movie, appeared comfortable in the flowing garments.

Kennedy, who was at the preview, particularly praised Shangri-La suits for men designed by Louis. It's a print shirt reminiscent of the Nehru jacket worn with slacks, and as Kennedy noted, you don't have to wear a tie.

"We dressed people as we thought they should be," said

producer Ross Hunter. "The key word is comfort."

Two Charged In Downtown Altercation

An altercation that began in a downtown restaurant and ended with the breaking of a window in a business establishment 3:40 a.m. Friday resulted in the arrest of two women.

Melody Mumaw, 18, 446 Watt St., was charged with disturbing the peace and Brenda Mumaw, address unknown, with assault and battery. Additional charges are pending against Brenda Mumaw as a result of the breaking of the window.

According to the police report, both women were in Forrest's Restaurant, 122 E. Main St., when they got into an argument with Brenda Evans, a waitress, and used physical force on her.

Upon leaving the restaurant, the two Mumaw women walked east on Main St. when Brenda Mumaw suddenly kicked out the plate glass window in Stonerock's TV and Appliance store on E. Main St.

Vacancies Filled By Legion Post

Commander Dallas Hinkle, Hall-Adkins American Legion Post 134, announced the election of two post officers to fill vacancies caused by resignations.

Elected to the post of adjutant was Robert Shadley. Elected to the post of second vice commander was Mike Mohony.

It was also announced the post is having a couples club dinner and dance beginning 7 p.m. Saturday. The Ed Hix Band has been booked for the event.

Franking 'Abuse' Eyed

CINCINNATI (AP)—U.S. District Court Judge Timothy Hogan says he will decide whether an alleged $50,000 franking abuse by an Ohio congressman is a legal matter or a "political matter" that should be considered by Congress.

Judge Hogan decided against issuing a temporary injunction Thursday when attorneys for U.S. Rep. Walter Powell, R-Ohio, said the congressman has stopped mailing congressional reports to residents of Ohio's Eighth District.

The suit was brought by Powell's opponent for the seat, James Ruppert, of Franklin, a Democrat.

Powell's attorneys told the court that Powell agreed to cease the mailings until Nov. 11, after the Nov. 7 election.

Ruppert charged Powell had been using his free congressional mailing privileges to send the reports to constituents for political purposes. Had Powell paid the postage himself, Ruppert alleged, the bill would have been $50,000.

Festival Of Leaves Concert Set Sunday

The third annual Festival of Leaves concert will be given 7:30 p.m. Sunday at Laurel Hills United Methodist Church, Laurelville.

WHAT EVERY WOMAN SHOULD KNOW ABOUT HER KNITS

If you're going to keep them nice, you'll want to learn more about your comfortable, stretchy knits. ■ For example, the type of fibers used determine the "washability" of your knits. Even the so called "washable wools" are susceptible to shrinking or stretching. ■ How about fabric construction? Is it single, double knit, or woven? Is it warp knit or textured yarn? And what about garment construction? Are your knits lined, laminated, or bonded? ■ All these differences in women's (and men's) knitwear require special attention when it comes to care and cleaning. ■ And that's a good reason to get our Sanitone drycleaning. Because we take all these differences into account, as we reshape your knit dresses, sweaters, slacks. Lift out oily stains that water alone cannot remove. ■ Get our Sanitone treatment, to keep your knits looking nice. ■ And when you visit us, get your copy of "How To Care For Your Knits," the booklet that's been offered in VOGUE, GLAMOUR, SPORTS ILLUSTRATED, ESQUIRE, HARPER'S BAZAAR, and MADEMOISELLE.

Take a good look at the new Satellite Sebring-Plus. We've restyled it to give it a look we think a lot of people are going to like. But that's only the beginning. Here's the inside story. You know all those irritating little noises your car makes when you're driving down the highway? Like wind whistle. Tire noise. Traffic sounds. Well, we've built a car to quiet those noises. We've added special door and window seals, for example. And things like floor silencers and roof pads to keep the street noises outside the car. Which means that the Sebring-Plus will be a quieter car than ever before. "Super-Quiet," we call it. There's even a standard Electronic Ignition System that'll get you started in cold, wet weather.

"The honor of the Republican party is dead," Shriver said. "And now under Nix it looks as if you can't succeed in politics unless you have a spy, an electronic bug to put on your opponent's telephone, unless you force, unless you steal, unless you go burgling in the night that's the degradation of politics."

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew was campaigning for Republican senatorial candidates. In Roswell, N.M., he attended a rally and endorsed Pete Domenici, but he declined to support continued federal financing of a local job-training center for Indians, which Domenici aides said was important for his election chances.

How Weather Looks Today

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Here is the Ohio weather summary from the National Weather Service:

The cloud cover over Ohio has begun to dissipate in the northwest, where temperatures dropped because of clear skies. The mercury in Toledo dropped below freezing at dawn today as a result.

The clear skies will spread south and east today causing overnight temperatures to drop in other portions of the state. At dawn with the cloud cover still dominant, Cincinnati reported 51 degrees, while Cleveland, Akron and Canton had 46 degrees.

Lows tonight will dip into the 40s. Highs on Saturday will range from 60s to 70s.

FORECASTS

OHIO — Clear tonight. Lows in the mid to upper 40s. Cloudy north Saturday and partly cloudy south. Highs from the low 60s to the low 70s.

NORTHWEST INLAND — Clear tonight. Lows in the mid 40s. Saturday cloudy and turning cooler late in the day. Highs in the mid to low 60s.

WEST CENTRAL, CENTRAL, EAST CENTRAL — Clear tonight with lows in the mid 40s. Partly cloudy and warmer tomorrow. Highs 65 to 70.

SOUTHWEST, SOUTHEAST — Clear tonight. Lows 45 to 50. Mostly sunny and warmer Saturday morning turning cloudy in the afternoon. Highs in the upper 60s and low 70s.

3-Car Mishap Injures Woman

A three-car accident 5:49 p.m. Thursday in an alley between E. Mound and E. Franklin Sts. resulted in injury to a 40-year-old Circleville woman.

Helen L. Burns, 107 Parkview Ave., was treated at Berger Hospital for a cut knee suffered when her car was struck by an auto driven by Wesley M. Edstrom, 61, 123 Seyfert Ave.

According to the report of Pl. Jim Francis, the Burns auto was southbound in the alley when it was struck on the left rear fender by the westbound Edstrom car. The impact threw the Burns vehicle into a parked car belonging to Jerry Riffe, Stoutsville.

Rep. Collins Said Stalling Damage Claim

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The lawyer for State Sen. Oakley Collins, R-18 Ironton, was accused Thursday of trying to delay settlement of a national damage claim brought against Collins until after the Nov. 7 elections.

U. S. Justice Department attorney, Irwin Schroeder, handling the government's case against the Collins Mining Co., said he expected a final financial offer for an out of court settlement from Collins' attorney, John Muething, by Friday.

Schroeder said "we have told Mr. Muething it would be a one-shot deal. If we can't settle we'll file against Collins."

Muething, of Cincinnati, refused Thursday to discuss the claim.

Schroeder had said the Justice Department would file a civil damage suit against Collins before the end of September unless an out-of-court agreement could be reached.

Federal investigators have recommended that the Justice Department seek up to $600,000 in damages caused by trespass and illegal strip mining of 32.6 acres of Wayne National Forest near Ironton.

Collins contends he owes the government no more than $5,000 for the trespass, which he claims was an accident.

Wednesday, Collins said he doesn't expect resolution of the claim until after the election. Collins is running for the state House of Representatives.

Muething represented Collins earlier when the lawmakers were fined $1,500 on criminal charges of illegal strip mining of national forest land.

Costumes Get Top Billing In Week's Fashion Showing

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Costumes of every variety, except the Halloween kind, are getting star billing at this week's California Fashion Creators showings for next spring and summer.

The description applies to dozens of looks—from the classic blazer suit to boutique nostalgia outfits to movie costumes from the new musical "Lost Horizon."

To veteran California dress designers such as Michael Calderon and Fred Rothschild, costume is a trim blazer or waist-long battle jacket over a dress, skirt or pants.

To the "new faces" of West Coast fashion, young boutique firms as W.W. Duke and Gunne Sax, costume means a look of the past. Gunne Sax specializes in long Victorian fluffery with mutton sleeves and apron fronts.

Chessa Davis, designing for W.W. Duke, has created the costume skirt of the year, "peddler's cloak skirt."

Inspired by the legends of ancient peddlers who made their cloaks from scrap, Miss Davis invents a color-mad skirt, not of scraps, out panels of varicolored cloth, patchwork strips, plaids and ginghams.

The most unusual act in the show by far was Jean Louis' previews of his dazzling costumes for the upcoming "Lost Horizon."

Academy Award winner Louis has wrapped the stars, men and women, in exotic voluminous caftans. He-men like Peter Finch and George Kennedy, shown in film clips from the movie, appeared comfortable in the flowing garments.

Kennedy, who was at the preview, particularly praised Shangri-La suits for men designed by Louis. It's a print shirt reminiscent of the Nehru jacket worn with slacks, and as Kennedy noted, you don't have to wear a tie.

"We dressed people as we thought they should be," said

producer Ross Hunter. "The key word is comfort."

Two Charged In Downtown Altercation

An altercation that began in a downtown restaurant and ended with the breaking of a window in a business establishment 3:40 a.m. Friday resulted in the arrest of two women.

Melody Mumaw, 18, 446 Watt St., was charged with disturbing the peace and Brenda Mumaw, address unknown, with assault and battery. Additional charges are pending against Brenda Mumaw as a result of the breaking of the window.

According to the police report, both women were in Forrest's Restaurant, 122 E. Main St., when they got into an argument with Brenda Evans, a waitress, and used physical force on her.

Upon leaving the restaurant, the two Mumaw women walked east on Main St. when Brenda Mumaw suddenly kicked out the plate glass window in Stonerock's TV and Appliance store on E. Main St.

Vacancies Filled By Legion Post

Commander Dallas Hinkle, Hall-Adkins American Legion Post 134, announced the election of two post officers to fill vacancies caused by resignations.

Elected to the post of adjutant was Robert Shadley. Elected to the post of second vice commander was Mike Mohony.

It was also announced the post is having a couples club dinner and dance beginning 7 p.m. Saturday. The Ed Hix Band has been booked for the event.

Franking 'Abuse' Eyed

CINCINNATI (AP)—U.S. District Court Judge Timothy Hogan says he will decide whether an alleged $50,000 franking abuse by an Ohio congressman is a legal matter or a "political matter" that should be considered by Congress.

Judge Hogan decided against issuing a temporary injunction Thursday when attorneys for U.S. Rep. Walter Powell, R-Ohio, said the congressman has stopped mailing congressional reports to residents of Ohio's Eighth District.

The suit was brought by Powell's opponent for the seat, James Ruppert, of Franklin, a Democrat.

Powell's attorneys told the court that Powell agreed to cease the mailings until Nov. 11, after the Nov. 7 election.

Ruppert charged Powell had been using his free congressional mailing privileges to send the reports to constituents for political purposes. Had Powell paid the postage himself, Ruppert alleged, the bill would have been $50,000.
